Diamonds

Valuable in Themselves

Valuable Because of Their History

IT IS an ill wind...the saying goes. Circumstances have forced several famous people, well-known Socialites, to appoint me as agent for their jewels. They have asked me to dispose of them at a fraction of their worth, imploring me to find appreciative buyers who would understand the value of these jewels.

These and other pieces are on display at my Galleries. They are priced at 45% of their original cost...and the value of diamonds is increasing daily.

*A new series of
V-12 cylinder
Lincoln motor cars*

THE new Lincoln series marks a distinct advance in engineering design and construction. A single design, V-12 cylinder, 150-horsepower engine, has been adopted for all Lincoln cars. It provides great power with maximum flexibility and smoothness. The polished aluminum cylinder head, oil temperature regulator, bearings of high-speed airplane type — insure finer engine operation, greater endurance, greater economy. Outstanding among other features is the new Lincoln clear-vision system of body ventilation.

The Lincoln of today is built on two wheelbase lengths. A wide choice of standard body types, both closed and open, and a number of custom-built types by Judkins, Brunn, Willoughby, Dietrich and Le Baron are available.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

THE ARRIVAL of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, of Whitemarsh Hall, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, last week was an important event in the social calendar of Palm Beach. Mrs. Stotesbury, accompanied by her son, Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, came on Wednesday to open El Mirasol, her beautiful home on the ocean front. She was joined on Friday by Mr. Stotesbury who made the trip from Charleston to Palm Beach aboard his yacht, Nedeva, in company with a party of friends including Miss Beatrice P. English and Miss Margaret Connell, who were guests aboard the Nedeva on a similar voyage last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury hold an important place in the social as well as the cultural life of Palm Beach and are among those sponsoring worthwhile events given at the resort. They are among the patrons of the President's Birthday Ball, which gives promise of being the most brilliant event of the Palm Beach season.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory have been in residence at their beautiful villa on Banyan road since early season, arriving in time to enter Mrs. Amory's daughter, Miss Gloria Baker, in school. Numerous informal affairs have been given at the Amory villa where Mr. and Mrs. Aksel C. P. Wichfield, Miss Lucille M. Parsons and Capt. Richard Cooper have been guests. Mrs. Amory's younger son, Mr. George Vanderbilt, who came to Palm Beach on vacation from Roxbury school, made a fortnight's trip by airplane to South America in company with Capt. Cooper and Capt. the Rt. Hon. Frederick E. Guest. Another son, Mr. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, to whom Mrs. Amory gave her famous racing stable when he attained his majority last year, is in Africa hunting big game but is expected here for a late season visit.

* * * *

Mrs. Henry R. Rea of Farmhill, Sewickley, Pa., has been in residence at Lagomar, her home on South Ocean boulevard since the middle of December. Mrs. Rea is important in the civic as well as the social life of Palm Beach. She is vice-president of the Garden Club of Palm Beach and a member of the Flower Show committee. She is a member of the town planning board and takes an active part in all cultural affairs.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt (the former Miss Gertrude L. P. Conaway) who were hosts at their ocean front estate in Lantana following their arrival here late in December, are passing a fortnight in New York. Guests at the Vanderbilt home included Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Cutler, Mrs. George Howard, Miss Eleanor Barry, Mr. Alfred O. Hoyt, II., and Mr. Frederick S. Whitlock.

* * * *

Amado, the ocean front home of Mr. Charles A. Munn, was the scene of one of the jolliest house parties of the holiday season. Mr. Munn was unable to be present but his uncle, Mr. Noel Munn, acted as host. Among the guests were the Duke of Sutherland, who, with the Earl of Warwick, were guests at Amado last year. Another distinguished guest was Commander Edward St. John Edmonstone, of London, who stopped here en route to the Bahamas where he visited Governor Sir Bede E. H. Clifford. Other guests at Amado included Mr. Charles Munn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ector Munn, her son, Mr. Rodman Arturo de Heeren, and Mr. William Rhineland Stewart.

The party enjoyed the round of festivities that marked the holiday season here and were honor guests at several smart dinner parties.

Mr. Charles Munn is expected here shortly in company with his daughter, Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, the former Miss Pauline Munn.

* * * *

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, who is the guest of Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson at their villa in Vita Serena, has been the honor guest at a series of parties by her friends among the cottage colony. Capt. and Mrs. Wilson have been hosts at a number of affairs since they opened their villa, where other guests have included Lady Mendl and Mr. John E. McMillan.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, of Lake Bluff, Ill., have opened their winter home, Casa Alejandro, in Vita Serena for the season. Mrs. McKinlock, a well known civic and social leader, was elected chairman of the Town Planning Board at its annual meeting last week. She is also president of the Garden Club of Palm Beach and has been active in arranging the meeting here in February of one hundred and twenty-five presidents and delegates of Garden Clubs throughout the country. The meeting will be held on February 23, 24 and 25, coincident with the time of the Sixth Annual Flower Show to be given in the Royal Poinciana con-

of New York, who with her husband, is spending the season at her home on El Brillo Way servatory. Plans for the show were discussed at a meeting of the flower show committee held at Casa Alejandro last Wednesday.

* * * *

Mrs. Wanamaker Munn of New York and Naragansett Pier, R. I., arrived early and occupied Louwana for several weeks preceding the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Blair, of Chicago, who have leased it for the season. With Mrs. Munn were her children, Miss Fernanda Munn, a student at Miss Hewitt's school, and Mr. Gurnee Munn, Jr., who attends Pomfret School, and were enjoying holidays from their schools. Mr. and Mrs. Cole Porter and Miss Elsa Maxwell, of London, were members of the house party and were entertained at numerous social affairs during their sojourn at Louwana.

* * * *

Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., of Lenox, Miss., who are passing the season at Casa del Pastor, their villa on Dunbar road, were hosts to over one hundred guests at their annual New Year's reception this year. The party was given on the eve of Mayor Shepard's seventy-seventh birthday and friends stopped by to congratulate him and to extend greetings for the New Year. The Drum and Bugle Corps of the Veterans of Foreign Wars marched into the patio and saluted the Mayor with martial airs. Col. and Mrs. Henry L. Doherty have paid several short visits to Mayor and Mrs. Shepard this season and were honor guests at a dinner given at Casa del Pastor earlier this month.

* * * *

Maj. and Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton of Rosemary, Jenkinstown, Pa., arrived early in the season to occupy Villa de Cygnes, their lake front villa. Their daughter, Miss Mary Brown Warburton, came earlier to occupy Casa Maria Marone, her own house adjoining that of her parents. Miss Warburton made her successful entrance in the radio field this fall, broadcasting on a regular hook-up.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington of Mill Neck, L. I., are occupying La Torre Bianca, the Nelson S. Odman villa on Banyan road, which they have leased for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Odman, with their family, occupied the house in the early season after which Mrs. Odman returned to her northern home, The Mill House, in White Marsh, Pa. Accompanying her was her son, Mr. William G. Foulke, II., and his friend, Mr. David Le Breton, both students at Princeton. Mr. Odman has taken the former Fatio apartment in Phipps Plaza for the season.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw of the Chimneys, Oyster Bay, L. I., will arrive in Palm Beach on January 25 to occupy the Carpenter villa on Clarendon Avenue.

* * * *

Mr. Louis F. Stanton Bader has arrived from Windover, his summer home at Dover, Mass., and has opened Puertas Viegas, his villa on South Ocean Boulevard for the season. Mrs. Bader, who has been detained in the north, will join him later.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., are occupying Oheka on North Palm Beach Avenue where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, will arrive later in the season.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Ryan last week for a brief sojourn were Mr. Henry Channon, III, and his bride, Lady Honor Channon, of London, who came here following a visit with Mr. Channon's family in Chicago. Lady Honor Channon is the former Lady Honor Dorothy Mary Guinness, eldest daughter of the Earl of Iveagh, of Elveden Hall, Suffolk, and St. James Square, London.

Major and Mrs. Rex Benson, also of London, are house guests at Oheka.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Angue Dobyne arrived early in the season at Casa Beata, accompanied by Messrs. Robert and James Dobyne, who will spend the season there. Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Thomas joined them later and participated in the holiday parties that are given annually at Casa Beata. Mr. Hugh Dillmn entertained at a large dinner for Mr. Thomas at Sandy Loam Farm soon after his arrival. Mrs. Thomas, who is Mrs. Dobyne's daughter, is passing the month of January here and goes out almost daily for sailfish aboard her husband's boat, Le Pecheur. Mr. Thomas departed for California soon after New Year's on a concert tour through the west before making his initial appearance of the season at the Metropolitan Opera on February 2.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers, of New York, and Dunrobin, Locust Valley, Long Island, are at Pelican Point, their ocean front estate at Gulf Stream. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finucane of Spokane, Wash., and his brother, Mr. Arthur Finucane, of Toronto, Canada, are spending several weeks with them. Mr. Frank Finucane is the father of Mrs. Robert Brinkley Smithers, who was before her marriage, Miss Mary Gertrude Finucane. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brinkley Smithers will probably come to Florida later in the season. Also expected there with her husband is Mrs. E. Bonner Bowring, the former Miss Mabel C. Smithers, whose marriage was a notable event of October 7 at Locust Valley.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Atwell, Jr., are occupying Villa Tranquillo, the DeGrimm Renfro house on El Brillo Way. They are leaders among the young married set here and entertain frequently at home and at many of the smart supper clubs. Recently they gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, who are guests at Villa Marina.

Mrs. Atwell, the former Miss Jean Cochran, has visited here in past seasons at Amado, with her mother, the Princess Chlodwig Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst of New York and Steirmark, Austria.

Mr. Atwell is a noted polo player and spends much of his time at the Phipps field at Gulf Stream playing polo with Mr. Sanford, Mr. Michael Phipps, Mr. Hubert Phipps, Mr. Townsend Martin and others of the group of nationally known young sportsmen.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, whose marriage occurred September 1, 1933, have arrived at Villa Marina, the Ocean Boulevard home of his father, Mr. John Sanford. As Miss Mary Duncan, Mrs. Sanford was one of the outstanding actresses on the legitimate stage, having achieved almost instant fame through her vivid portrayal of Poppy in "The Shanghai Gesture."

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford came to Palm Beach from Medway Plantation, the Sidney Legendre estate 27 miles from Charleston. Mrs. Legendre, who was Miss Gertrude Sanford, is expected to come later in the season, with her husband, for a visit at Villa Marina. Another daughter, Miss Sarah Jane Sanford, will also join the house party soon.

POLO AT GULFSTREAM

LEADING POLO PLAYERS in the country are taking part in spirited matches at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream, each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons with special matches being arranged for Saturdays. Polo enthusiasts of the island resort are attending many of the games and have had the pleasure of seeing several thrilling encounters between well matched teams. Phipps Fields undoubtedly compare with the best polo fields in the world, according to statements which have been made by some of the world's best players. Two large fields for play and several smaller practice fields are surrounded by splendid quarters for stabling ponies and keeping equipment.

The landscaping makes for the fields a beautiful background and tropical setting unmatched by any place of its kind on this continent. Long rows of Australian pines break the easterly winds which might hamper play, and rows of lolling cocoanut and royal palms add a majestic appearance to the entire scene of this sport of kings.

Such internationally known players as Winston and Raymond Guest and Jock Whitney, are expected to arrive here late in January, and among well known mallet wielders who are here now, playing often, are Stephen "Laddie" Sanford, Michael and Hubert Phipps, George Atwell, Townsend and Bradley Martin, Raymond Firestone, Howell Howard, John S. Phipps and Godfrey S. Preece.

Other players noted at the fields are Juan Montalvo, Robert Hassler, Terence Preece, Frank C. McCahill, and his son, John McCahill, Albert Plaut, Edward Plaut, Fred Allen and a number of others.

Terence Preece, son of Godfrey S. Preece, of Westbury, L. I., member of the well known Preece family and authority on polo ponies, is in charge of the club this season and will play and referee the matches, as occasion demands.

A large number of polo ponies belonging, respectively, to Messrs. Terence Preece, Winston and Raymond Guest, Godfrey S. Preece, John S. Phipps, Hubert Phipps, and Michael Phipps, George Atwell and Howell Howard, have also arrived and are quartered at the stables. They number more than a hundred of the best specimens of polo ponies obtainable.

In what was by far one of the best games of the season at Phipps Fields, the Whites defeated the Reds recently by a close score of 6 to 4.

Featured by thrills from start to finish and superb horsemanship on the part of all players, resort fans witnessed one of the best games ever observed on the polo field.

Laddie Sanford, playing his initial game of the season, teamed with Michael Phipps, both international polo stars, played brilliantly for the Whites and proved just a bit too good for the excellent defense work of the team of Howell Howard and Terence Preece on the Reds.

Making up the White team were Hubert Phipps, Laddie Sanford, Michael Phipps and Godfrey S. Preece. On the Reds were Carlos Montalvo, Howell Howard, Terence Preece and George Atwell.

In a stirring match fraught with thrills, action and splendid horsemanship, held at Phipps Fields recently, the Freebooters rode out a hard match of six chukkers over the Enthusiasts, winning 9 to 5.

On the Freebooters were T. Gordon, Fred Allen, Howell Howard and George Atwell. On the Enthusiasts were R. B. Hassler, O. Moore, Terence Preece and Don McCahill.

Evenly matched, all participants fought hard throughout the game with Fred Allen being top man on the Freebooters, tallying four of the nine goals made. Howell Howard also did some splendid work, marking up three tallies and George Atwell was right behind with two more.

The match was touch and go throughout the first half, but then the Freebooters began to show reserve strength and broke through the Enthusiasts on several occasions to register extra goals.

For the Enthusiasts, R. B. Hassler played an outstanding game, being credited with three goals, while Terence Preece made one beautiful score from almost the middle of the field and Don McCahill made a hard ride from the side lines to score a tally.

More than 300 persons attended with many resort members being present. Among those noted on the sidelines were Mr. John S. Phipps, well known for his excellent polo playing, with Mr. Stewart Iglehart, another prominent player, Mr. Harry Oakes, Countess Filipponi, Mrs. A. Minford Bond, Mr. Charles M. Hayes, Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis, Mrs. Donald McCahill and daughters, and many others.

In a fast polo match which was closely contested until the last chukker, the Reds defeated the Whites, 8 to 5, at Phipps Fields recently.

Making up the Red team were Messrs. Hubert Phipps, Robert Hassler, Howell Howard and Godfrey S. Preece.

On the Whites were Messrs. Albert Plaut, Raymond Firestone, Edward Plaut and George Atwell.

Both teams played fast and furious with the tally remaining about even until the last period, when Howell Howard on the Reds scored three goals in most spectacular play, materially aided by his teammates.

Raymond Firestone, former captain of the Princeton polo team, was the outstanding player on the White team, and stood out from every player on the field for his brilliant work at the goal. Albert Plaut rode exceptionally well and played a fine game.

STEPHEN (Laddie) SANFORD
Internationally known polo player who teamed with Michael Phipps on the Whites to display brilliant form recently in the matches at Gulfstream.

AMONG THE PALMS

EARLY ARRIVALS at The Breakers include many season guests who wish to avoid the northern winter and therefore come very early and remain until spring in the sunny Southland at one of the most noted hostelrys in the world. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stahl of Stamford, Conn., were first to sign the register for the 1933-1934 season, as has been their custom for many years. They arrived in Palm Beach early in December and during the season will be joined by several members of their family.

* * * *

Mrs. Douglas W. Mabree of Saratoga Springs, is a prominent member of The Breakers' winter colony who spends the entire season at the hotel. Arriving in her private car before the holidays, Mrs. Mabree was accompanied by her son, Mr. David W. Mabree, and a guest, Mr. Eugene Crowley of Hartford, Conn. Her daughter, Mrs. William L. Boone of Asheville, N. C., has since joined her for the winter months and expected shortly are Miss Edna Louise Mabree of Saratoga Springs, Mrs. Ranulf Compton of New Haven and her attractive daughter, Miss True Compton, who has many friends in the younger Palm Beach group. Miss Florence Boone, who usually accompanies her mother, is studying in New York this winter.

* * * *

Among the interesting family groups spending the early season at The Breakers are Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Moody of Boston, their son, Malvern, and daughter, Emmaline, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moody, also Mr. John Morgan of Boston and his daughters, Helen, Harriet and Marion Morgan. Emmaline and Harriet have returned to Dana Hall but Miss Helen Morgan, a graduate of Ogontz, will remain at the hotel for several weeks. The Moodys are former members of the cottage colony and have scores of friends in Palm Beach.

* * * *

Mrs. Charles I. Corby of Washington has again joined the season contingent at The Breakers where she is an annual visitor. She has a beautiful estate just outside of Washington on the Rockville Pike, which adjoins that of her son, Mr. Karl W. Corby, who with Mrs. Corby, will arrive at The Breakers early in February. Mrs. Corby spends several weeks in the summer at the Poland Springs house and usually visits at the Sam Oset at Rockland Breakwater, Me., where her family spends several weeks. Mrs. Frank Stitt of Washington arrives tomorrow to visit Mrs. Corby for two weeks.

* * * *

Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Smith of Superior Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, with his sister, Miss E. T. Smith, and Mrs. Gloria Schiffer Cleveland of Lake Shore Boulevard, are guests at The Breakers from the mid-west. Rev. Smith is the pastor of St. John's-Roman Catholic Cathedral in Cleveland since 1928. He was created monsignor and member of the Papal household by Pope Pius XI in 1921.

* * * *

The Honorable Joseph E. Davies, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, and Mrs. Davies, of Washington, are early season guests at The Breakers. They visited the hotel last winter with Mr. Merle Thorpe, editor of The Nation's Business. Dr. Davies is especially fond of the beach and with Mrs. Davies is to be found there each sunny day.

A noted guest at Whitehall is Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, famous and daring woman aviator who flew the Atlantic last spring with her husband, Mr. James Mollison. They crashed after sighting land and while the crowds were already assembled at the Floyd Bennett Field to welcome them. Mrs. Mollison has been widely entertained during her stay in Palm Beach.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy of Saratoga Springs and New York are guests at The Breakers where they expect to remain until the closing. They are annual visitors in Palm Beach and have scores of friends in both the hotel and cottage colony. Her sister, Mrs. Roy Lockhart of St. Louis is their guest for several weeks. Mrs. Lockhart who usually winters on the Riveria, has never visited Palm Beach before and is so delighted with the climate and beauty of the resort which she thinks is incomparable, that she is making plans to extend her stay. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy expect to be joined by other members of their family later in the season.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Proctor of New York, widow of the well known theatrical magnate, is again occupying her suite at The Breakers. She has as guests for several weeks her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jackson of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

* * * *

Mr. Alexander Phillips of Peapack, N. J., well known sportsman, and formerly an active member of the Melton Mowbray Hunt, is again registered at The Breakers for the season.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton of New York are among the social registerites spending the winter at the Brazilian Court. They spent the entire season in Palm Beach last year. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte of New York, well known in the winter colony, will arrive shortly to spend the winter months at the Brazilian Court, also Mr. I. Chauncey McKeever of New York and Southampton, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon B. Anderson of Philadelphia and their daughter, Miss Margaret Anderson, spent some time here prior to taking up their winter residence at the Boca Raton Club. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Dow of Orange, N. J., and their daughters, the Misses Eleanor and Lorraine Dow are spending the winter months at the Brazilian Court.

* * * *

Among the distinguished guests at Whitehall is General J. Ernest Smith of Wilmington, Del., who has in his party his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rice of La Jolla, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. William Sequine, Jr., of New York and Wilmington. General Smith has been a visitor in Palm Beach many years and in former seasons was a guest at the Royal Poinciana. He is one of the founders and former presidents of the Old Guard Society and widely known in the resort.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Riper, with their children, Miss Gloria Van Riper and Mr. Kenneth Van Riper, Jr., have taken a suite at the Seaglade for the remainder of the month. Mrs. N. C. Drake and her son, Mr. Gilbert Drake, of Maplewood, N. J., are here for their annual visit and are stopping at the Seaglade.

PALM BEACH CLUB ACTIVITIES

THE BATH AND TENNIS CLUB celebrated its formal opening on New Year's Day, when all facilities were available to members and their guests, although for weeks prior to that date the beach was a gay rendezvous at the bathing hour. Officers of the Bath and Tennis Club are Mr. Frederick Johnson, president; Messrs. James H. R. Cromwell and Harry Oakes, vice presidents; Mr. Francis A. Shaughnessy, treasurer; Mr. R. O. Middleton, secretary. The board of governors includes also Messrs. George A. Dobyne, Maurice Fatio, A. Atwater Kent, David Hugh McCulloch, Wiley R. Reynolds, Adam G. Thomson and Emil J. Stehli.

The first social affair at the club was the governor's luncheon on January 6, tendered by the governing board to members of the club. Preceding luncheon, many took a plunge in the new pool, which will be the scene of many interesting aquatic events during the season.

Among those attending the governor's luncheon were Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mrs. Willey Lyon Kingsley, Miss Julia White, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vail Brokaw, Mrs. Ward Ames, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinnock, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Richard Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Phil H. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers, Mr. Adam G. Thomson, Mrs. Luther A. Wait, Miss Katherine Wait and Mr. John P. Wemple.

* * * *

The Board of Governors of the Gulf Stream Golf Club were hosts at the opening luncheon of the club on Sunday, January 7, which was attended by nearly a hundred members. This club with its beautiful, and hazardous course, is one of the most picturesque on the lower East Coast and its links are always filled with enthusiastic golfers. Sunday is always most popular here, with members and their guests enjoying a round of golf before luncheon.

Mr. William G. Warden is president of the club; Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury, vice president; Mr. Edward Shearson, secretary and treasurer. The Board of Governors consists of Messrs. William G. Warden, Harry Payne Bingham, Thomas L. Chadbourne, John F. Harris, Paul Moore, Charles A. Munn, Edward Shearson, Joseph Speidel, Edward T. Stotesbury, Harold S. Vanderbilt and Frederick S. Wheeler.

* * * *

The Beach Club, favorite gathering-place of the smart set in the resort for many years, opened the reading rooms on January 10, and few days later the green-and-white dining room, with its interesting view of the gardens and the lake, was opened for members and their guests. Col. Edward R. Bradley, owner of the Beach Club, has arrived from Idle Hour Farm, Lexington, Ky., and is at his home on the lake front.

* * * *

The Seminole Golf Club is always a popular rendezvous but Sundays draw a particularly large number of enthusiastic golfers. The tombstone tournaments being held at the club this season have created much interest and are eagerly participated in by members and their guests. Mrs. Charles Minot Amory and Capt. R. Amcotts Wilson were winners of the first tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Amory gave a luncheon there preceding the tournament, her guests including Capt. Richard Cooper, Mr. Hugh de Laussat Willoughby, Jr., Miss Gloria Baker, Miss Lucille M. Parsons and Mr. George Vanderbilt. Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds, Miss Marie Bassett, Mr. Hood Bassett, Miss Annette Reynolds and Mr. Wiley R. Reynolds, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John C. King, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Mr. P. J. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Q. White, and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sweatt were among others having guests at luncheon.

* * * *

The Everglades Club opened informally with a gala New Year's Eve party attended by many of the social leaders of the resort. The beautiful Orange Gardens of the club was the scene of the affair which was permeated with a spirit of merriment throughout. Dudley Doe's orchestra played for dancing.

Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., were hosts at one of the largest parties of the evening, their guests including Col. and Mrs. Henry L. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Q. White, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brokaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Chadbourne, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey C. Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Howell H. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herendeen, and Mrs. Catherine Legget were among others entertaining at the dinner.

The formal opening of the Everglades Club was a notable event of Sunday evening, January 14. Ernie Holst and his orchestra made their initial appearance and were enthusiastically received by the smart assemblage of club members and their guests who attended. Dinner dances will again be featured on Thursday and Sunday evenings and many reservations have already been made for these affairs.

The new officers and Board of Directors of the Everglades Club include persons socially prominent in the resort. At the election of officers, held recently, Mr. Cecil Singer was re-elected president; Mr. Charles A. Munn, vice president; Mr. Edward McIlvain, Jr., secretary, and Mr. Alexander W. MacDougall manager. The executive committee includes Mayor John Shepard, Jr.; Mr. Charlton Yarnall, Mr. Alfred G. Kay, Dr. Leland Eggleston Cofer and Capt. John H. Gibbons. Serving on the Board of Directors, in addition to the officers already mentioned, are Col. Robert Glendinning, Major Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Col. John Bayne Maclean and Messrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, Henry MacDonald, Peter A. B. Widener, II., A. Atwater Kent, Jr., Loring Q. White, George Angue Dobyne, James H. R. Cromwell, Francis P. Fleming, Hugh Dillman and Frederick Johnson.

The President's Birthday Ball on January 30, at the Everglades Club for the benefit of Georgia Warm Springs Foundation promises to be among the most brilliant functions of the season.

Mr. Hugh Dillman, chairman of the affair, has received the active co-operation of the entire social colony, the Board of Governors of the club donating it for the ball. The cause is so humane and so deserving it enlists the sympathies of all.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

ONCE more the care free throng at Palm Beach enjoys itself in casual fashion, choosing from the smart shops of the resort its evening gowns and daytime frocks and colorful beach attire. Selecting according to personal taste or to the moment fancy, the smart women of the colony are setting the styles of the nation for the coming spring and summer. Wherever one goes, beauty meets the eye, whether at the great hotels at the dining-hour or at the smart restaurants and on their out-door dancing floors, and especially on the sundrenched beaches and at the cabanas.

Matrons and maids, debutantes and their mothers and grandmothers, unknowingly join the perpetual fashion pageant at the resort, which in its color and beauty and diversity is not surpassed anywhere in the world. Other resorts may feature the bizarre, the exotic, and even the vulgar. Palm Beach presents the original, the dashing and the beautiful, translated in terms of American discrimination and taste.

Mrs. Frederick Hemsley Gillmore, the former Miss Alice Fair McCulloch, wore at the opening of the Patio a low-cut gown of black net with a little shoulder cape of black coq feathers worn bib-like at the back.

* * * *

Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, famous woman flyer, was dancing under the stars at The Colony Club the other evening and wore a lovely frock of powder blue rippled crepe fashioned on simple lines with a square cut back and front décolletage. The neckline was adorned with flat cut flowers shading from a delicate pale blue to a darker shade. Satin sandals of the darker shade completed her costume.

* * * *

Miss Helen Morgan of Boston, who is spending several weeks at The Breakers, was dancing at the Colony Club last week and was charmingly gowned in a flamingo pebble crepe frock. The sleeves were long and tight fitting with a distinctive note added in the opening at the shoulder edged with sable. A low V back and slight train were details.

* * * *

Another lovely frock was worn by Mrs. Stephen Sanford, the former Miss Mary Duncan. Fashioned of lustrous black satin and designed on smartly simple lines, a shoulder corsage of gardenias formed a contrast. Mrs. Sanford wore a shell tiara in her hair.

* * * *

Mrs. Roy K. Lockhart of St. Louis, a guest at The Breakers looked very smart in a black satin gown which had crossed straps at the back and an accompanying jacket lavishly trimmed with sable.

* * * *

Mrs. Arthur H. Waterman of Rye, New York, was noted at dinner at The Breakers recently wearing a charming frock of printed black and white silk crepe with a large shaggy white flower adorning the front, worn with white satin sandals.

* * * *

The Princess Guy de Polignac of New York and Paris, recently wore an exquisite frock of turquoise blue chiffon with a wide girdle of silver. A long coat of the silver cloth featured a triple collar of turquoise chiffon and she carried a tiny muff of shirred chiffon.

Mrs. William W. Forrester of Chicago and the cottage colony, hostess at a large dinner party at The Colony Club recently, chose for her costume a delicate shell pink chiffon elaborately embroidered in rhinestones, made with a high waistline and a dropped shoulder line. Jade green slippers added a contrasting color note.

* * * *

Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy of New York and The Breakers was costumed in a distinctive gown of black velvet with an interesting shoulder treatment and a slight train.

* * * *

Mrs. Daniel A. Lindley of the Cross Roads, Englewood, N. J., who is visiting at Casa Bendita, looks charming in a white evening ensemble of pebble crepe, fashioned with peasant sleeves and set off by bands of sable running over the shoulder and to the edge of the high waist. Red slippers were an interesting detail.

* * * *

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, a guest of Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, wore at The Colony Club an evening gown of white satin with flowing lines, fashioned with a train which she carries over one arm while dancing. A scalloped edging of matching material makes a simple trimming at the neckline and at the edge of the butterfly sleeves. With this Mrs. Hearst wore a striking jeweled clip of emeralds and diamonds and a single strand of pearls.

* * * *

Mrs. George Atwell, Jr., another of the lovely young matrons here, wore a black evening dress whose only trimming was a shawl collar and a smart twisted girdle of silver and black.

* * * *

Mrs. Joseph J. Rice, who is spending a fortnight at Whitehall, wore a chic one-piece backless swimming suit of liberty blue pique with a tiny white anchor printed design and a halter neck tied at the back with white, blue and red twisted yarn on the beach the other morning.

Mrs. Joseph Corcoran, of Brockton, Mass., who is a guest at Whitehall, looked very attractive the other morning in a smart oyster white sports frock with a high neckline and wide armholes bordered in bright blue bands. Her fabric straw hat was banded in matching grosgrain ribbon.

Miss Helene Aubrey, of Chicago, wore a smart bud green knitted silk frock with a round drawn-string collar tied at the front and decorated with large green crystal buttons on the beach one day last week. Her off-the-face model fabric hat was trimmed with crossed green feathers and she carried a green patent leather envelope bag.

Mrs. Charles McCarthy was noted in The Breakers the other afternoon wearing a stunning melon pink knitted angora sports frock, with puffed short sleeves and a square fagotted neck yoke. A wide brimmed baku hat banded in pink and yellow daisies completed her outfit.

* * * *

Mrs. John Barnes, of Amsterdam, N. Y., who is at the Breakers for the season, wore on the Poinciana-Breakers beach promenade a sports frock of white silk crepe with short, flaring sleeves lined with emerald green crepe. Her close-fitting turban and loosely knotted scarf were of the same bright color. Bright-with-white never loses its charm against the background of Palm Beach sands and sunshine.

THE SPORT SEASON

THE PALM BEACH sports season will assume its place of stellar importance this year, offering a diversified program to suit the tastes and inclinations of practically every sports devotee and to provide action and entertainment for winter residents and visitors.

Golf, tennis, deep sea fishing and swimming will rank in primary importance with those taking an active part in outdoor life, while for the interested spectator there will be polo, diamondball, boxing, wrestling and greyhound races.

As always, golf is king at the island resort with a number of splendid courses affording the maximum amount of enjoyment for the resort golfer.

Included in these are the Poinciana course of the Palm Beach Golf Club, the Palm Beach Country Club, one of the sportiest in the South and both under the direction of the Florida East Coast Hotel Company, the Everglades Club course, the Gulfstream Club at Gulfstream and the Seminole Club just north of Kelsey City.

Two of these clubs will be the scene of prominent tournament play, bringing nationally known golfers this season with the other clubs having their own member tournaments.

The Palm Beach Golf Club will offer the first annual tournament of the Palm Beach season, the annual Lake Worth tournament, January 22 to January 26, and the South Florida championship, February 5 to February 9. At the Palm Beach Country Club there will take place the annual Women's Championship of Florida, February 12 to February 16. This affair is very popular and is one of the high-lights of the golf season at the island resort attracting such outstanding golfers as Glenna Collette Vare, Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt, Opal Hill, Virginia Van Wie and oftentimes, groups of British feminine golf stars.

The Men's Championship of Palm Beach will be played February 26 to March 2, and it is also expected that the annual tournament of the famous Artists and Writers Golf Association will be held here again this year during the week of February 5th, bringing internationally known writers and artists to Palm Beach.

The Everglades Club has opened its golf course and tennis courts, with both being in the finest condition for play. There is expected to be the annual Governor's and President's cup tournaments for members this year, and preparations are now under way for a series of tennis tournaments between well known Palm Beach players and teams from other resorts.

Sport fishing is far more important than ever before due to the successful visit our former chief executive, Herbert Hoover, had here with his party last year. Palm Beach is undoubtedly the best fishing grounds in North America for the gamey sailfish. The resort boasts the best to be had in the way of trim sport fishing craft, manned by skippers who have long been familiar with these waters. All sorts of tropical game fish abound and there is scarcely a day that the avid angler cannot cruise out into the blue waters of the Gulf Stream and return fully satisfied with the number and size of his trophies of the day's fishing.

Polo fans are assured of witnessing some of the best matches they have ever attended at the world famous polo fields of the Palm Beach Polo club at Gulf Stream, Fla. Each season internationally known players gather for practice and play, riding wiry little ponies from famous stables. Regular matches are held three times a week and draw large groups from Palm Beach and Miami.

For those sporting events of the squared circle there is offered wrestling and boxing matches, in three arenas, two of them in West Palm Beach and one in Lake Worth. Some of the top-notchers in these sports are brought here each season and put on some grand melees for the edification of the resort fan.

Entering its second season, the newer sport of diamondball will take its rightful place in the sports calendar. This game which is a cross between indoor and regular baseball will be played two evenings a week at Poinciana Park with six teams of local residents making up the league. There also will be a regular schedule of girl's diamondball games, which proved so popular last year.

Sun bathing and swimming assume their rightful place at this world famous island resort, on the beaches and at the private clubs, with resort visitors enjoying mild summer weather less than a day's journey from snow and ice.

The Poinciana course of the Palm Beach Golf Club, internationally famous for many years for its tournament play and prominent members is the scene of much activity since its recent opening.

Many members of the resort and hotel colony and Old Guard golfers are seen daily in twosomes, threesomes, and larger groups engaged in nine and eighteen hole rounds.

Miss Bessie Fenn will enter her ninth season as pro in charge of the course, which she assumed at the death of her father, Arthur Fenn, several years ago. Miss Fenn is at the famous Poland Springs course during the summer season.

Mr. E. Thompson Starr, genial secretary and cashier of the Palm Beach Golf and Tennis Clubs has returned for his twelfth season from Buck Hill Falls, Pa., where he spends the summer months.

Jack Walsh and Dennis O'Connell, well known to resort golfers, are back again, the former as caddy-master and the latter in charge of the golf shop. George Gordon, teaching pro, arrived recently from Providence where he is pro at the Wannamoisett Country Club during the summer.

The club rooms of the Palm Beach Society of Old Guard Golfers located over the Palm Beach Golf Club have been open for some time and are already the scene of interesting bridge play between periods of golf, with many of the members on hand.

Among those noted recently on the course from both clubs were included Mr. B. H. Kroger, president of the Old Guard; Messrs. George Altmeyer, H. J. Hinde, George C. Van Dusen, Nathan D. Bill, Harry Rosenfield, Arthur Hammerstein, Dr. Edward Martin, H. E. Sawyer, Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Arthur Somers Roche, Tommy Goodwin, Bud Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mossbacher and house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Udo Reinach and Mr. George Gershwin.

Others observed on the course included Mr. Frederick W. Gwynne, Mr. Joseph D. Bannon and Mr. Joseph D. Bannon, Jr., Mr. Harry J. Kelton, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sholtz, Dr. Charles C. Morrison, Jr., Mr. Joseph E. Wholean, Dr. and Mrs. F. K. Ream, Mr. D. S. Blossom, Mr. Townsend Martin and Mrs. Fred Atwell, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Aydelotte, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Martinez de las Rivas of Biarritz, Mr. Roger Bacon, Mr. Frederick Johnson, Mr. Edwin G. Lauder, Jr., and Mr. Edward V. Quinn, Mr. Andrew Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gates, Mrs. Nettie E. Livermore, Mr. H. S. Moody, Jr., Mr. George C. Van Dusen, Miss Ruth Dennison, Mr. William Dennison, Mr. Frank Kolb and Mr. Alfred Feltman, Mr. Ralph A. Sweet, Miss Ruth La France and Mr. Harry Holland.

The Palm Beach Country Club, one of the sportiest courses in the South, located on the North Ocean boulevard, has been open for play since the first of January, with many resort golfers taking advantage of its excellent condition to make a round of nine or eighteen holes.

Mr. Gordon Smith, well known to resort golfers, has returned as secretary-manager of the club and other members of the personnel include Wilbur Hutchinson, as cashier, Alec Hanna, caddymaster, and Louis Forte in charge of the golf shop.

Noted playing at the Country Club have been Miss Audrey Phipps, Mr. A. C. Speyer, Mr. Chester G. Lehman, Mr. Edwin G. Lauder, Mr. Edward V. Quinn, Mr. Arthur Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Martinez de las Rivas, Mr. Alfred Feltman, Mr. Frank Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mosbacher, Mr. George Gershwin, Mr. Harry Rosenfeld, Mr. Arthur Hammerstein, Mr. R. A. Kennedy, Mr. Stanley Remsen, Mr. Arthur Somers Roche, Mr. C. L. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Chancey I. McKeever and many others.

The Everglades Club course has been open for some time with many members and their guests participating in play over the eighteen hole layout which is in fine condition this season.

Mr. Arthur Goss has returned to the club as pro, and other members of the personnel include Ben Berry, cashier, Tony Spetto in charge of the shop. Alec Tait, prominent in professional golfing circles is again at the club.

Among those observed on the course recently have been Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mr. Henry Carnegie Phipps, Mr. Maurice Fatio and Mr. Douglas W. Paige who took part in an interesting foursome.

Mr. John Sanford and Mr. John Fleming played one of their usual spirited games.

Miss Virginia Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall, made the rounds alone.

Mr. Nathan D. Bill, Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow and Mr. Ernest G. Howes made a threesome enjoying the links.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Horton Glover played together.

Mrs. Bernard H. Kroger and Mr. Clarence Hall were noted in a twosome, while nearby Mrs. Kroger and Miss Madeline A. Henry were making the rounds.

Others noted playing were Mrs. Thomas L. Chadbourne, Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Dr. Charles C. Morrison, Jr., Mr. Bernard H. Kroger, Mr. Clarence Hall and Mr. Frederick Gwynne and many others.

The Everglades Club tennis courts are planning on a most active season with a number of interesting tournaments on the program.

Mr. Alfred G. Kay is chairman of the tennis committee of the Everglades Club and Mr. Gordon Lynn is professional. Hans Nusslein, world famous professional tennis star is also associated with the club, playing and teaching.

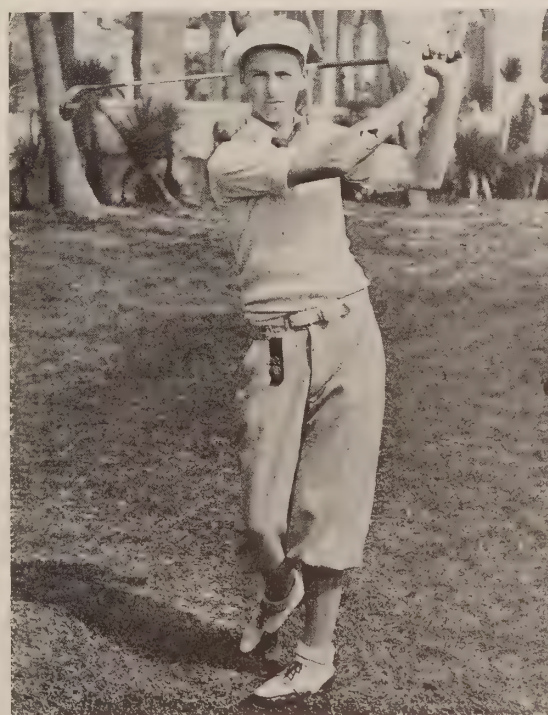

The first of a series of interesting tennis matches scheduled at the Everglades Club will be the Intercity team match between Palm Beach Everglades Club team and a picked Miami Beach team from the Surf Club consisting of professionals and amateurs. The matches will offer two doubles between professionals and amateurs and a series of three doubles and three singles matches. It is planned that exhibition matches will be held every three weeks through the season.

The second and one of the most interesting events on the calendar will be the International team tournament between picked teams from Nassau and the Bahamas meeting a resort team representing the Everglades Club which will run from February 16 to the 17th. The tournament will consist of four singles and three doubles matches with all amateurs competing.

The Second Annual Invitation tournament at the Everglades Club is tentatively set for February 19 to the 24th in which prominent amateur players from the resorts along the East Coast will participate.

With all the courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club, situated to the north of the Royal Poinciana Hotel, open for play, tennis is daily attracting more resort residents.

These courts, the scene of many famous tournament matches, are under the direction of George Agutter, dean of tennis pros, assisted by Rudy Noble, promising young pro in the world of tennis.

NEWS OF THE SKYWAYS

FFORDING ideal accommodations for air-minded resort visitors who use the airplane for both travel and pleasure, the Waco Sales of New York, Inc., outstanding manufacturers of all types planes, of Roosevelt Field, L. I., have leased the Belvedere Airport just outside West Palm Beach, and will operate here on a permanent basis. The newly acquired airport has been put in first class shape for day and night flying. The landing field and surrounding territory has been cleared and graded to facilitate the best possible conditions for landing and taking off. Circle markers have been installed and within the next few days hazard lights and four huge flood lights will be completed to make the airport perfect in every respect.

Mr. Howard T. Ailor, president of the Waco Sales of New York, Inc., has been here for a fortnight directing the taking over of the new branch airport together with Mr. A. F. Murphy, manager of the parent organization.

Both he and Mr. Murphy who have a host of friends in the resort expressed themselves as being very optimistic over the new project which is coming up to their expectations in every respect.

For the first time in several seasons, the Waco Sales of New York, Inc., is making possible daily service to the Miami races each afternoon, arriving in time for the races and returning to Palm Beach in time for the cock-tail hour or for dinner as the patrons may desire.

Charter trips are also arranged meeting air lines at Vero Beach or Miami, and special trips to any part of the State or United States also can be made in comfortable planes of the newest type all equipped for day and night flying.

Among the planes at the field operated by the branch company are, new Waco four place cabin planes of latest type, ideal for making long hops; an F-2 open plane for student instruction and a Travelair six-place cabin plane.

According to them, the decision to operate the Belvedere airport was actuated by the many requests of New York customers who expect to spend a large part of the winter here.

Some of them desire to bring planes down and others feel the need of an aerial transportation service to take them to and from their business in the North. It was stated that many of these persons have been going to Miami in the past because of the lack of adequate facilities here.

During an interview recently with Mr. Murphy, he stated, "We are here to conduct this airport with the same conscientious and proven thoroughness which has gained for us the enviable reputation we now hold in the aviation industry. We are bringing here the best equipment obtainable for the convenience of the residents of the community. The flying ability and integrity of our men who will instruct students and fly our charter ships is beyond reproach. We invite residents and visitors to this section to come out to our new airport and look over our equipment and become acquainted with our personnel."

Mr. Edward Maloney, vice president of operations of the Waco Sales of New York, Inc., and one of the outstanding student instructors in the country is here directing student instruction work, and Mr. J. A. McMillen, vice president in charge of flying, nationally known transport aviator who has flown the St. Louis-New Orleans run for lengthy period will handle charter trips to Miami and other points.

A highly trained personnel licensed by the Department of Commerce for respective duties, including service mechanics and pilots are at the airport at all times.

Growing interest in aviation is evidenced by the number of enrollments in the new school of aviation at Belvedere Airport, with Mr. Edward Maloney as instructor. New students are Mr. John Knapp and his son, Mr. John Knapp, Jr., of 118 Australian Avenue, Mrs. Fontaine Fox of Delray Beach, wife of the well-known cartoonist, Mr. Jake Boyd, county engineer, and Miss Grace K. Morrison, who is already an experienced flyer.

In his instruction, Mr. Malony uses a Waco F 2 plane of the Waco Sales Company of New York, who are operating the Belvedere Airport. He is considered one of the finest instructors in the country. He has never had an accident and has turned out thousands of first class flyers. Last summer he taught thirty-five people to fly, including his wife, who is a licensed pilot.

In 1930, Mr. Maloney made a non-stop flight from Roosevelt Field to Mexico City which was a memorial flight to Captain Carranze, the Mexican flyer who lost his life in his attempt to make the same flight two years before.

Mr. H. T. Ailor, president of the Waco Sales was one of the passengers on the first regular flight of the Travelair from Belvedere Airport to the races at Miami recently.

The trial flight was made last week in 29 minutes in the plane by Mr. Jack McMillen.

The first flight of the Travelair on Monday marked the beginning of a regular schedule allowing half-an-hour from airport to airport. Passengers will be transported by taxi to the race track.

Arriving at the Belvedere Airport recently was a large tri-motored Ford plane, believed to be the first to land there. Its passengers were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bartlebaugh, of Detroit, Mich., and their tiny six-weeks-old daughter, Marilynn, who stood the trip like a veteran; also Mr. James Sprule, and Mrs. C. E. Caster. The party remained overnight to visit the resort and proceeded to Miami.

Mr. M. J. Chumley, of Roosevelt Field, flew in recently in a Waco bringing Miss Frances Marselis, who recently made the endurance record in Miami.

Others flying into the Belvedere airport for service and refueling were Mr. John Paul Riddle of New York in a Waco, Mr. E. H. Snow of Washington, D. C., in a Pitcairn, Mr. Charles Van Duyne of Newark, N. J., in an Aeromarine, and

Mr. George Harz of the Aviation Country Club, Hicksville, L. I., in a Monocoupe.

Among others who have been out to the airport to greet members of the personnel include Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ruth-erford, both of whom are expert pilots, Mr. Carl Triest, Mr. Grover Loening, Mr. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., and his personal pilot, William Cleveland; Mr. Robert Huntington and Mr. George Atwell and many others.

An adequate municipal airport for the Palm Beaches was assured recently when the Palm Beach County Commissioners took a formal lease of the Palm Beach County Airport located on the site of the old municipal airport, on Belvedere Road, from the Palm Beach Airport Association.

This property consisting of 440 acres was previously leased to the Airport Association by Mr. John M. Demarest, present owner. The county commissioners agreed to take over the lease at one dollar a year from the association for a period of 10 years from December 13, 1933, with option to purchase it at any time for $18,000, which figure represents the price, plus interest. One of the main reasons for the county taking it over was to enable an appropriation of $31,850 to be made as a C.W.A. project which has already become effective.

In an interview with Miss Grace Morrison, president of the Palm Beach County Airport Association and one of the hardest workers in this section for adequate airport conditions, it was stated that the C.W.A. appropriation would take care of the clearing, filling and grading of the site, and that later a drive would be made for funds to make the airport one of grade A classification.

CHARMING RESIDENCE OF

CONSTRUCTED in the style of the Italian Renaissance, with a pronounced note of the modernistic in the interiors, is the charming residence of Mr. Otto H. Kahn located on the North County Road, with the property extending from ocean to lake. The residence itself, ideally located on a bluff overlooking the Atlantic, is finished with Florida quarry key stone trim and stucco, with large overhanging eaves and projecting rafters of red tile.

Entrance is effected from the County Road to a spacious entrance court on the north side, and from there one ascends a few steps to a central patio, with a shallow fountain in the center and arcades on all sides.

The central patio of the Otto H. Kahn residence is presented in a most restful tone, with tropical planting and Renaissance detail of the structure blending in perfect harmony. To the left is a splendid specimen of screw pine, native to Polynesia but readily thriving in tropical Florida.

MR. OTTO H. KAHN

The main rooms of the house face the East and South with the master bedrooms situated mainly above the living rooms, and affording a marvelous view of the ocean. The furnishings and interiors of the house are in a decided modernistic trend, especially noted in the living rooms and principal bedrooms.

On the south side is another enclosed loggia, which together with the main structure overlooks a delightful swimming pool. Beyond this to the west are the tennis courts with garage and servants quarters on a line with County Road.

Interesting view of the Otto H. Kahn residence as seen from the swimming pool, showing enclosed loggia and main structure of the house in a southern exposure. Leaning cocoanut palms cast their reflection in the pool, and to the extreme right one may catch a fleeting glimpse of the broad Atlantic and Gulf Stream.

METROPOLITAN NEWS NOTES

LORD DECIES OF ENGLAND and his daughter, the Hon. Moya Beresford, who were widely entertained last season while they were guests of Mrs. Peyton J. Van Rensselaer at her home on the Lake Drive, have been visiting Mr. Arthur Williams at Brook Corners, his estate at Roslyn, L. I., who gave a delightful party recently in their honor. Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly of New York was hostess. The table was decorated with Jerusalem Cherries, in pots, and begonias. During the party the carillon on the estate, which has delighted the countryside with its carols this week, was played for the guests. Miss Antoinette Sherwood also played selections on the pipe organ, and motion pictures were shown in the music room.

One of the notable entertainments of the year, the third annual Peacock Motor Show Ball, for the benefit of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor took place recently at the Waldorf-Astoria. Between two and three thousand attended. Among those entertaining at dinner in advance were Mmes. Corneius N. Bliss, Pierpont Morgan Hamilton, George D. Widener, Dewees W. Dilworth, Artemus L. Gates, Palmer Dixon, H. P. Fletcher, Brewster Jennings, Forsyth Wickes and Kenneth Budd, and Miss Melissa Yuille. Mrs. Bliss gave her dinner for Miss Lucrezia Bori, of the Metropolitan Opera, at 10:30.

The ball opened in the main ballroom. Meyer Davis and Michael Markels and their orchestra played their for general dancing, except from midnight until 1 a. m., during the entertainment program, which took place on the stage in the main ballroom. The performance, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth M. Murchison, included popular stars of theatrical, artistic and radio worlds.

The show, entitled "The King," opened with the personal appearance of Mr. Otto Soglow, who brought to life his popular cartoons of the little king. The queens, Miss Peggy Fish and Miss Cecilia Gerner; lackeys, major-domos, and court attendants surrounded him as he was conducted in a sight-seeing tour of New York. Ned Wayburn's ballet of mermaids accompanied him.

His first glimpse of New York night life was a night club where Antonio and Renee de Marco danced. Among many others appearing were Felicia Sorel, Sigmund Spaeth, Owen Jones, Ruggie and Struggie, Don Redmond's Band, the Albertina Rasch Ballet, Miss Fannie Brice and a roller-skating act by the Olympics. The last presentation was a command performance for the king.

After the main show guests resumed dancing and cabarets and supper clubs opened. In the Jade and Basilton rooms, as in former years, Mr. Edward Paul England 3d was in charge of the program. "Chez Elle," a champagne club, will be the new name of the Basilton room. Maurice and Cordoba danced there during supper and "Rikki" sang. Anne Freshman danced Horatio Zito conducted his Poema Orchestra.

At 2:30 a. m. "Chez Elle" became "Le Mauve Monocle," and Marion Chase presented sketches written for her London engagement. Jack Meyers and his orchestra alternated with Horatio Zito. In the Jade room, called "Piacenza Poema," Rosita and Ramon and Sarita danced. Mitchell Schuster and his tango orchestra alternated with William Scotti for general dancing.

At 2:30 the Jade room became Peppy d'Albrow's "Chapeau Rouge," for the presentation of his show including Antonio and Renee de Marco, Dick Gasparre and orchestra and Miss Iliena Strenge, who sings at tea dances in the Empire room of the Waldorf.

Another feature of the ball will be presented by Miss Louise Islin and Mrs. C. Oliver O'Donnell, who had a supper club in the Astor Gallery called "Rendezvous." Carlos Gardel, called "South American Chevalier," made his first appearance here in "Rendezvous," Enric Madriguers conducted his orchestra for dancing.

All the proceeds from the sale of tickets, boxes and tables will directly benefit the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor due to the courtesy of General Motors, which is defraying the major expenses of the ball.

Miss Ruth Vanderbilt Twombly was chairman of the executive committee, Mrs. Robert L. Clarkson of the ticket committee, Mrs. John R. Fell Jr. of the junior committee, Miss Eleanor Carpenter of the program committee and Mr. Harold A. Sands chairman and Mr. Frank Crowninshield vice-chairman of the floor committee.

The second of the Junior Assemblies for debutantes this year and some of those introduced last year, took place recently in the main ballroom suite of the Ritz-Carlton, Green and pink roses formed the decorations. The ballroom was all in green with smilax, palms and cybotium ferns. Baskets of supreme roses and cybotium ferns decorated the foyer and stairway.

The guests were received by the members of the committee, which included Mrs. Richard C. Colt, chairman, and Mmes. Harry T. Peters, M. Walker Rogers, Walter Phelps Bliss, Edwin C. Merrill, George S. Brewster, Herbert L. Satterlee and Adrian V. S. Lambert. Supper was served at midnight in the oval restaurant.

Before the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Van Nest Gambrill gave a dinner in the Ritz-Carlton's crystal room in honor of their niece, Miss Anne Blair Clark, debutante daughter of Judge William Clark and Mrs. Clark, of Princeton, N. J. On the tables were Joanna Hill roses and lavender sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Kenny, of 120 East End Avenue, and Neptuno, Palm Beach, Fla., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Jane Kenny, to Mr. Gregory Sylvester Mangin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Mangin, of Newark, N. J., and a noted American amateur tennis player.

Miss Kenny is a graduate of the Finch School, New York, and also studied at the Conservatory of Music at Montainebleau, France. Her father, a building contractor and interested in various other businesses in New York, is a lifelong friend of former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Mr. Mangin has been rated among the first leading players in the United States since 1929. In that year he was No. 10 and in the following year had risen to No. 6. In 1932 he was ilsted at No. 7 and in 1933 had advanced to the No. 5 position. In the latter two years he also won the national indoor championship singles title, he will defend this winter

UNDER THE STARS

FTER the sun sinks behind the western shore of Lake Worth and darkness spreads with tropic suddenness from the sea towards the far expanses of the Everglades, lights twinkle from those romantic places where the night life of the resort centers. Palm Beach, beautiful in the brightness of the noon sunshine, is transcendent in the sub-tropic night. Under the stars the gayety of the resort mounts high. A round of dinners at the splendid homes that house many of the elite of the nation, or at the clubs and restaurants that vie with the most noted Continental places in perfection of service and quality of food, is followed by dancing until the twinkling lights in the firmament begin to pale at the approach of the rising sun.

The night club, as found in the cities, is unknown in Palm Beach. Instead of hot, crowded, indoor rooms, feverish with a false and simulated gayety, we have delightful outdoor palm-fringed dancing floors, thronged with beautiful women in gorgeous gowns and men in the comfortable evening attire permissible at the resort. Tails if you wish, or a mess jacket if you prefer, so long as evening conventions are observed—this is the rule in even the most formal places, while in others white flannels are worn by the majority of men guests.

Live and be happy, be merry and gay, enjoy yourselves in pleasant surroundings such as can be found only in Palm Beach. Dance to the finest music, under the stars.

The Colony Club, "crossroads of the world of fashion," Palm Beach institution the fame of which has spread to the four corners of the earth wherever international society foregathers, opened for its sixth season last Wednesday night. Again at the helm is Arthur C. Hand, founder and president, with whom is associated Philip J. Coffey of New York.

The opening, the earliest in the club's history, was in response to general public demand.

The Cafe de la Paix between the north end of the east loggia and the water gardens is a new addition. This wing houses a new, twenty-six foot buffet, before which are placed tiny tables and comfortable wicker chairs, in the Parisian sidewalk cafe manner. The room is panelled in pecky cypress, the west side being entirely open to afford an uninterrupted view of the water gardens from beneath the shade of a blue awning with wide, gold stripes at either end.

The famed water gardens have been extended and arranged for additional table space. The central motif here is again the "palm of burnished gold." A rolling stage has been constructed, from which entertainers offer their presentations.

On opening night Buddy Wagner and His Internationalles made their debut in Palm Beach, and those present immediately realized that they were listening to a master organization. Mr. Wagner, conductor, has spent practically as much time playing for smart European audiences as he has for American.

The opening function was marked by many brilliant dinner parties. Included among hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford of Villa Marina.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mr. Douglas W. Paige, Mrs. Gurnee Munn, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst and Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochfort.

Others having guests included Mrs. William W. Forrester, Mr. Robert Newman, Mr. Jack Butler, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kennedy, Mr. Joseph D. Bannon, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Bannon, Jr., Dr. Harry J. Kelton, Mr. Ross McKeon, Mrs. Roy K. Lockhart and others.

The Patio, at Sunset Avenue and County Road, heralded the 1934 season with a brilliant opening attended by a representative society gathering. During the preceding weeks many alterations had been made at the famous restaurant, chief among them the installation of two dance floors. One is outside in the court, and the other in what is now known as the Trophy Room, in which room there is also a new fireplace at the south end and a buffet across the north wall.

Its first two weeks of operation during the current season have given The Patio further title to its slogan, "Where the Palm Beach tradition is observed at its best." Featuring three daily sessions, luncheon, tea and dinner, with music and entertainment at each by Mort Dennis and His Versatile Society Orchestra, The Patio is under the managing directorship of Sam Salvin, with Captain Edwin Zimmerman in the post of manager.

The younger set took possession of The Patio on its opening when Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. Wait gave a dinner-dance for their son and daughter, which was attended by sixty of their friends in Palm Beach on vacation from colleges and schools in the north. Young Mr. Wait is a student at Clarke School in Hanover, N. H., and Miss Wait attends the Palm Beach Private School.

Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, famous aviatrix, selected The Patio for her first public appearance in Palm Beach, when she attended the inaugural luncheon with Prince George of Russia.

An interesting dinner was that given by Mr. L. V. Roberts, Jr., assistant secretary of the United States treasury. His guests included Captain and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Lady Mendl, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mr. James A. Moffett, Mr. John E. McMillan and Mr. William Baxter.

On the same night Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fitzgerald gave a small dinner, as did also Commander Claude Grahame-White. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corcoran, Colonel and Mrs. Frederick Housman, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, who entertained for their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Gillmore; Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gould and many others.

Since the opening night many brilliant functions have been held, notable among hosts and hostesses being Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. George F. Atwell, Jr., Mr. Townsend Martin, Mr. Michael Phipps.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Phipps had as their guests on a recent evening Miss Jane Bradley, Miss Theodore Fera, Mr. John Follmer, Mr. Fitz Carey and others.

Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen of Newport entertained for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William L. Van Alen, and her son, Mr. James H. Van Alen.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherford have been seen frequently at The Patio, as have also Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kent, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Carey.

The Patio Margery with its sheltering palms and scarlet hibiscus, its out-of-door tables and flagstone walks, its placid pools and inviting porches, is always a rendezvous of smart Palm Beach society. There amid the tempting aroma of delicious foods, well served, with the strains of a Viennese waltz floating lazily in the breeze, one may encounter daily continental groups assembled from all points of the compass. Whether at luncheon or at dinner—when shaded lights add a langourous touch to the surroundings—The Patio Margery is always the scene of numerous parties, both large and small.

One of the most brilliant parties given there is early season was the holiday dinner and supper dance at which Mr. James F. Moffett, here on his yacht, Bidou, entertained a large number of members of the cottage colony and their house guests.

The younger set assembled at Patio Margery during the holidays at the tea-dance given by Mr. and Mrs. George C. Van Dusen for Miss Nancy Rogers, Mr. Frederick Van Dusen Rogers and Mr. William Theodore Noll, who were here on vacation.

Others who entertained frequently at the Margery were Mr. George Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Thomas, Mr. Louis F. Stanton Bader, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Dow, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton and Prince George of Russia.

* * * *

The beautiful cocoanut grove with its waving palms and varied tropical shrubbery, which is Cafe L'Aiglon, is proving a mecca for dance and music lovers. The arrangement of the patio has been changed, and Ross Allen and his orchestra are the center of the stage, enabling all to have a full view of the activities, and to participate fully in the various attractions.

"BAIGNADE" BY JEAN LURCAT

This amusing water color painting by the modern French artist, belongs to the collection of Helena Rubinstein, 'international beauty authority and devotee of modern art. The fiery red ladies are enjoying their dip in black and yellow striped bathing suits. Mr. Lurcat's bathers, though not attired as those of Palm Beach, are certainly painted with a wilfulness and authority' that Palm Beach bathers would approve of. Lurcat is noted for his extraordinary imagination and his wonderful colors. In addition to the whimsicalities of his drawings, his approach to nature is masterly.

You Love Being Lazy on a Holiday?

So many women reach their Southern destinations exhausted from the journey and the fatiguing activities which preceded it. And all they want to do for days and days is...lie in the sun.

Elizabeth Arden understands this wonderful kind of lethargy and thinks it a fine idea. With one important provision...the faithful application of Ardena Sunpruf Cream to your face, back, shoulders, arms...every part of you that is exposed to the sun. Elizabeth Arden's Sunpruf Cream separates the beneficial rays from the harmful ones, and only admits the healthful, tanning rays. It is a vanishing type of preparation simple to apply, and invaluable in its results. It will absolutely prevent sunburn...yet enable you to tan evenly.

It is wise, also, to have an occasional Face Treatment at the Elizabeth Arden Salon to preserve the soft, smooth texture of your skin. For an appointment please telephone Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 5-2830.

NEW YORK

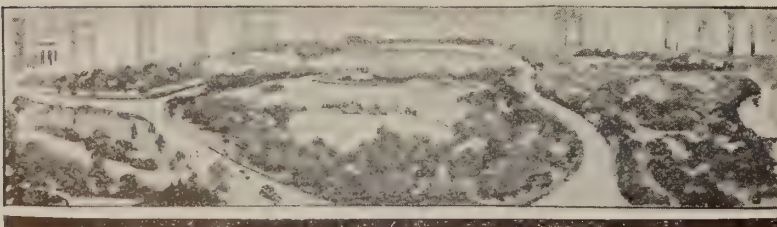

An admiring guest, a world traveler, lately returned from abroad, tells us "the Essex House is the Matterhorn of hotels. It captures the imagination with its loftiness and charm. A view from the windows overlooking Central Park reveals a panorama of beauty seldom found anywhere in Europe."

A step to transportation, New York's smartest shops and theatres.

RESORT DIAMONDBALL

By JOHN I. LEONARD

WITH the inauguration of the second season of play of the Diamond Ball League of Palm Beach, residents and visitors are again showing keen interest in this fast and fascinating offspring of the national pastime baseball. Following the introduction of diamond ball into this community, the Palm Beach Police, who had long been prominent in baseball, organized one of the first Palm Beach teams to participate in the new game. Another Palm Beach organization, the Palm Beach Gardeners Association, were also active in the sport and around these two teams the Diamond Ball League of Palm Beach was formed.

In order to make this popular sport available as an additional recreational feature of our resort, the Diamond Ball League of Palm Beach equipped the famous Poinciana diamond, where so many interesting contests have been held during years past, with the finest type of floodlights—thus transforming it into one of the outstanding fields of the country for the enjoyment of night games.

Six teams, representing the Bath & Tennis Club, Breakers, Poinciana, Gardeners Association, Palm Beach Police, and American Legion, compose the league for the present playing season. Last year the championship was won by the Palm Beach Police team, but there is every indication that, with the other teams stronger as a result of last season's experience, they will find the competition extremely keen throughout the season's schedule and be forced to stellar play to retain their laurels. Added interest this year centers around the three girls' teams, which are playing a regular schedule in conjunction with the league program.

Played with a ball somewhat larger than the regulation baseball and on a field of reduced size, diamond ball brings out unusually fast play, embodying all the thrills that accompany its famous predecessor. For the most part, the rules of the game follow closely those of baseball—in fact to all intents and purposes, it is baseball “right on.”

Because of the shorter base lines, a player is not permitted to depart from a base until the ball leaves the pitcher's hand—and still bases are stolen through using all the accepted forms of sliding as aids just as they are in baseball. The greatest variation from the national game is in the pitching—for the ball is pitched underhand. Amazing speed, and even deceptive curves are developed by the pitchers. Slow balls, which approach the plate with a swirling motion, prove deceptive to the batters, because they appear to present an opportunity to “kill the ball.” Short flies are the usual result.

A roving fielder, designated as playing shortfield, covers a wide territory back of second and third base—and often extends his field of action toward right field in the effort to reduce the open spaces where base hits are wont to go. The short fielder is the only variation from the number of players seen in a regulation game of baseball—and makes the tenth member of the team. This accounts for the diamond ball teams being referred to as “tens” instead of “nines” as we are accustomed to call our baseball teams.

The game of diamond ball does not impose the same strict age requirements that baseball demands of participants—for Palm Beach has watched our “young” Chief of Police, Joseph Borman, work magic with his slow ball delivery and defeat team after team by his effectiveness as a pitcher. Old-time ball players, from colleges and leagues of various classifications, answer the call to play this game. With the return of their “batting eye”, they again find pleasure in the old zest of competition. Youth is not always served—and diamond ball offers one of the great exceptions. Debutantes toss aside their social duties for a fling at the pastime, and with a background of tennis and golf, soon acquire the fine points of diamond ball. The timing of tennis and golf appears to be of material aid in enabling them to develop into strong batters. Business men from every walk of life join heartily in the game, claiming youths as their team mates and often excelling them by outstanding plays. It is truly a game of all the people.

With the colorful uniforms, in which the teams of the Diamond Ball League of Palm Beach appear, the picture presented at the field is always one of interest and attractiveness. Games are played in major league style, the loud speaker system keeping the audience thoroughly informed as to the progress of play if they fail to note the decisions of the umpires.

Early season play in the league has produced several extremely close games—indicating that the teams are evenly matched and contesting for every advantage. The outstanding play of the Bath & Tennis Club team has been an early season feature, and the American Legion team, newcomers to the league through taking over the Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce franchise, while losing their first two starts, played high-class ball in both contests. They bowed to the Bath & Tennis team by a one-run margin in a game that was in suspense until the last batter was retired. The champion Police team won over them by one run in another close game. Compared to the play at the start of the series last year, the games thus far have made the fans recall the last season form of the competing teams. With each team playing 15 games on the season's schedule, the present playing season seems destined to see a tight race all the way. Rivalries carried over from last year are adding zest to the play.

The girls' teams, which delighted the resort audience last year, have played a strenuous summer schedule. As a result, their play is showing marvelous improvement, and several of the girls are proving real stars in the playing of their individual positions. They hit hard and field the ball in clever fashion. As the season progresses it is expected that girls of the resort colony will again organize a team. The directors of the league have drawn their schedule in such a way that exhibition games can be arranged for them with the regular girls' teams competing in scheduled play.

In developing this recreational feature of our resort life, the officials of the League are presenting the sport at thoroughly nominal prices. Prominent members of the resort colony reserve their boxes from season to season and find it offers a thoroughly enjoyable diversion from other activities. With the passing of the negro ball games, Palm Beach has acclaimed, in no uncertain fashion, this popular sport. Games are played on Wednesday and Friday nights each week during the season. When the flag flies, there will be games that night. The race for the championship has just begun. You will find a new thrill in cheering your favorite team to victory.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

JOLLY house party is in progress at Amado, where Mr. Charles A. Munn arrived last week in company with his daughters, the Misses Frances Drexel and Mary Munn, the Duchess of Sutherland, Lady Daphne F. Hatton and Lord Adair. The Duchess of Sutherland was, prior to her marriage, Lady Eileen Gladys Butler, eldest daughter of the seventh Earl of Lanesborough and mistress of the robes to Her Majesty, Queen Mary, from 1916 to 1921. She will go to Nassau later to join the Duke who, with Lieut. Comm. Edward St. John Edmondstone, was a guest at Amado last month. Lord Adair, who has seats at Flixton Hall, Suffolk, England, and at Ballymena Castle in Antrim County, Ireland, spent several days at Amado before going to Il Palmetto to visit Mr. Joseph E. Widener.

Lady Daphne F. Hatton, who came here from Philadelphia, is the daughter of the Earl and Countess of Winchelsea. Through her mother, the former Miss Margaretta Armstrong Drexel, she is a member of the prominent Drexel family, of Philadelphia. Her father is also Earl of Nottingham.

Miss Frances Drexel Munn and Miss Mary Munn were formally introduced to society last December 15 at a large debut party given for them in Philadelphia. Their sister, Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, the former Miss Pauline Munn, is expected to join the house party later in the season.

Mr. Charles Munn arrived recently from London, where he maintains an apartment in the fashionable Pall Mall section. He is the newly-elected vice-president of the Everglades Club, being also a member of the board of governors of the Gulf Stream Golf Club. His ocean-front home, Amado, is the setting each season for a series of house parties in which many titled guests are always included.

Mr. Noel Munn, who occupied Amado and acted as host in the absence of his nephew, Mr. Charles A. Munn, will remain a guest there.

* * * *

Outstanding among events of the week was the arrival at Il Palmetto of Mr. Joseph E. Widener, of Lynnewood Hall, Elkins Park, Pa., accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener, II, and their children, Peter A. B. Widener, III, and Ella Anne Widener.

Mr. Widener, whose ocean-to-lake home is one of the largest and most imposing in the resort, is a prominent figure in social as well as club circles in south Florida. He is chairman of the Board of Directors of the Miami Jockey Club and attends the races there daily in season, frequently giving large luncheons at the club preceding the races.

Major Pryce Harrison and Capt. Cecil Boyd Rochfort joined the house party last week. Mr. Widener's daughter, the former "Fifi" Widener, with her husband, Mr. Aksel C. P. Wichfeld, former attache of the Danish legation in Washington, have sailed for a winter in India after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Amory early in the season.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Blossom, of Cleveland, Ohio, have returned to Figulus, their estate on the ocean front, following a holiday visit at their northern home. They were one of the early arrivals in Palm Beach, coming here in December for a month and then going north to join their family for the Christmas season. Their daughter, Mrs. Benjamin P. Gale, Jr., the former Miss Mary P. Blossom, and her husband are expected at Figulus later in the season.

The Blossom estate and the adjoining one of Mrs. Blossom's sister, Mrs. Chester C. Bolton, comprise the original estate of their father, the late Mr. Charles W. Bingham, one of the pioneer visitors to Palm Beach. The property, stretching from ocean to lake and including some of the most delightful vistas of the entire island, boasts the famous grove of Royal palms fringing the lakeshore and reputed to be the largest collection of Royal palms in the state.

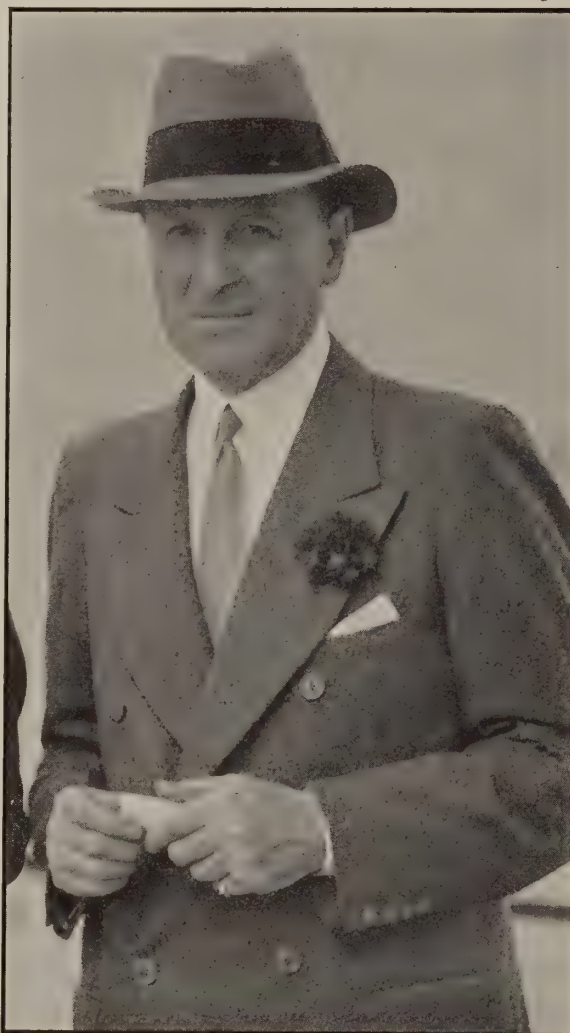

* * * *

Newcomers to the cottage colony this season are Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Smith, of New York and Penlynn, Brookville, Long Island, who are occupying Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner's home, Invierno, where they have been in residence since early November. Their daughter, Miss Laura H. Smith, a student at Foxcroft, spent the holidays with her parents and participated in the festivities attendant to the presence of the college set here. She was honor guest at a party given by her parents who invited sixteen of her friends to attend the boxing bouts at the American Legion arena and had them later to supper at their home. Her brothers, who also spent the holidays here, are Mr. Albert Smith, Jr., a student at Fessenden, Mr. Laurie Viles, who attends school in Chicago and Mr. James Viles, who is enrolled at St. Pauls.

* * * *

Mr. Paul Moore, of New York, and Hollow Hill Farm, Convent, N. J., has opened his villa, Collado Hueco, on South Ocean Boulevard for the season and has with him for a fortnight, Mr. and Mrs. George Plumer Smith, also of Convent. Mrs. Moore and the family will arrive later.

Mr. Moore's brother, Mr. Edward Small Moore, of New York, who occupies Sin Cuidado, the adjoining estate, is also in residence at his home and will be joined shortly by Mrs. Moore.

MR. JOSEPH E. WIDENER
chairman of the Board of Directors of the Miami Jockey Club, who arrived this week at his villa, Il Palmetto.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gray Warden, of Red Gate, Germantown, Pa., arrived last week at their ocean-front home which they will occupy this season. Mr. Warden is president of the Gulf Stream Golf Club and a member of the board of governors.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt will return early this week from New York, where they passed a fortnight, and will be joined soon by friends at their estate on the ocean front in Lantana. Mr. Vanderbilt, who commanded the cup-winning Enterprise three years ago, recently announced his plans for the defense of the America's Cup against the challenge of the Royal Yacht Squadron. He has formed a syndicate, including such men as Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, Mr. George Fisher Baker and Mr. William Kissam Vanderbilt, to build a new defense yacht, as yet unnamed. Work on the boat was commenced early this month at the Herreshoff Yard in Bristol, R. I., and the designs were made by Mr. William Starling Burgess, who designed the Enterprise. Slightly larger than the Enterprise, the new yacht will have living accommodations for her crew, in accordance with new racing rules.

* * * *

Mrs. Horace Hutchins Work, of Madison, N. J., arrived last week at El Cabana, her home on South Ocean Boulevard, which she has opened for the season. Her daughter, Miss Alice Patricia Work, and Mrs. Thomas Latchford, of Morristown, accompanied her.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, of Jackson, Mich., were among those arriving in Palm Beach early this year, opening Villa Felicia, their home on Clarke Avenue, in December. With them are their children, Miss Marie Antoinette Bassett, Miss Lucinda Shaughnessy and Mr. Harry Hood Bassett. Mr. Shaughnessy is a member of the board of directors of the Everglades Club and of the board of governors of the Bath and Tennis Club, and he and Mrs. Shaughnessy entertain frequently at these clubs as well as at home.

Miss Mary Kapp, of Flint, Mich., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Shaughnessy.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, who are in residence at their villa on Banyan Road, gave a dinner recently for Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, the house guest of Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson.

The guests, in addition to Mrs. Hearst, were Capt. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J.

Gordon Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Wadill Catchings, Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Mrs. William F. Cutler, Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, Mr. James A. Moffett, Mr. Douglas Paige, Mr. John P. Wemple, Mr. Harrison Williams and Mr. John Sanford.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Enzo Fiermonte (the former Mrs. William K. Dick) are occupying Nuestro Paradise, the ocean-front home of Mr. E. Z. Nutting, and are living quietly as Mrs. Fiermonte is recovering from an accident suffered in Bermuda.

The wedding of Mrs. Fiermonte's son, Mr. John Jacob Astor, to Miss Eileen S. S. Gillespie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lewis Gillespie, of Mayfair House and Newport, R. I., will be a notable event of February 6, at 4:30 o'clock at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in New York City.

Her other sons, Messrs. John Henry Dick and William K. Dick, who passed the holidays here with their mother, have returned to North Andover, Mass., where they are students at Brooks School.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Harris, of New York and Tuxedo Park, are passing their usual season at their villa on El Bravo Way. Mr. Harris gave a men's luncheon there on Tuesday inviting twenty-eight guests for the occasion. On Saturday, Mrs. Harris gave a ladies' luncheon for thirty of her friends among the cottage colony.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse arrived early at Quinta Marina, their villa in Singer Place, following a summer spent at The Fens, their estate in East Hampton, L. I. Mrs. Woodhouse has taken a prominent part for many years in the activities sponsored by the Guild of Bethesda-by-the-Sea, and this year was again named chairman of the ladies' committee in charge of the Tom-bola—the Italian street fair that will be given on the church lawn on February 13.

* * * *

Gen. and Mrs. Quincy A. Gillmore, of New York and Rumson, N. J., are occupying the Marx Moorish villa on Chilean Avenue this season. Their son, Mr. Frederick H. Gilmore and his wife, the former Miss Alice Fair McCulloch, visited here during the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller Gould arrived at Casa Bella Porta, following a visit in New York.

MISS GLORIA BAKER

charming young daughter of Mrs. Charles M. Amory of Banyan Road, spends her Palm Beach winters in study at a private school.

PREVIEW OF NEW MOVIES YOU SHOULD NOT MISS

Marion Davies and Bing Crosby in that famous "Let's Make Hay While the Sun Shines" scene from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "Going Hollywood."

Little Cora Sue Collins, baby actress, who portrays the part of "Queen Christina" as a child in the picture of the same name.

Douglas Wakefield, noted English comedian, now appearing in Hal Roach comedies.

Patsy Kelly, famous Broadway stage comedian now appearing in Metro Goldwyn Mayer pictures. She was last seen in "Going Hollywood."

GOLF AND TENNIS

HE annual Lake Worth tournament, first stellar golfing attraction offered this season in Palm Beach, got under way yesterday with three full flights of sixteen, representing outstanding golfers of the resort. Many favorites are on hand for the event, having qualified, and will start today on match play which runs through the final round Friday.

Tommy Goodwin, youthful star from Monroe, N. Y., who has never managed to come out on top in the Lake Worth event, although he has won a number of others in the resort, is competing again this year. Arthur "Ducky" Yates, who defeated T. Phillip Perkins in 1931 in the Lake Worth Tournament, is again at Hobe Sound after an absence of a year and is expected to offer stiff opposition in the event.

William B. Langford of Chicago, winner of the tournament in 1932, is also on hand, as well as Arthur Brown of Boston, Richard Steffan of Buffalo and Clifford B. Silkwood.

Among other resort golfers taking part are Dr. F. K. Ream, White Plains, N. Y.; Michael Sholtz, Port Jervis, N. Y.; Arthur Somers Roche, New York; Nathan B. Spingold, New York; Edward V. Quinn, Shrewsbury, N. J.; H. E. Ferguson, Palm Beach; Alfred Feltman, New York; Samuel Gates, Detroit; Charles M. Hayes, Yinetka, Ill.; Elmer Jordan, Palm Beach; Frank Kolb, New York; Edwin G. Lauder, New York; Dr. Edward Martin, Philadelphia, and many others.

Members of the executive committee of the Artists and Writers Golf Association recently announced from New York that the annual winter golf tournament will be held at the Palm Beach Country Club the week of February 4, with the vanguard of noted figures of the brush and pen leaving New York February 2, and making The Breakers hotel their headquarters while here.

It was also stated that the tournament this year would be run without prizes of cups and things, due to the fact that most every member already has one or two from former tournaments.

Instead, James Montgomery Flagg has agreed to do a portrait of the winner, who, presumably will be allowed to keep the finished product. It is said that he has already done memory portraits of Rex Beach and Grantland Rice, perennial champions and runner-ups, so he won't have to bother when he gets here. Arthur Somers Roche, runner-up to Rex Beach last year, is in fine form this season, though, and may upset Mr. Flagg's well-laid plans by winning the affair this year.

It was also announced that Mr. John Charles Thomas, noted singer and well known Palm Beach winter visitor, had been elected a member of the famous organization.

Among members who have definitely decided to be among those present this year are Messrs. John Golden, Arthur William Brown, Billy De Beck, Frank Crowninshield, John LaGatta, Jefferson Machamer, Rube Goldberg, Grantland Rice, H. T. Webster, Rex Beach, James Montgomery Flagg, Charles McAdam, Leroy P. Ward, Charles D. Williams, Gene Buck, Hamilton Fisher, Phil Dunning, Merle Thorpe and others.

* * * *

With all the courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club, situated to the north of the Royal Poinciana Hotel, open for play, tennis is daily attracting more resort residents.

Regular round robin matches between resort amateurs and professionals are being played on Sunday afternoons, drawing a large gallery of interested spectators, and the annual Southern Professional Championship tournament will no doubt be played as usual this year.

Among resort residents who have been engaged in daily matches are: Mrs. Marjorie Butler and Mrs. Edna Crites of Chicago; Mrs. Edith Cheeks, Miss Millicent Bancroft, Miss Van Dusen, Miss Pauline Lackman and Messrs. Luther A. Wait, David Mabee, Dr. Reilly, Mortimer Cobb, Townsend Martin, Tommy Goodwin, Anzo Fiermonte, Allan Brackett, Charles and Richard Harris and many others.

In one of the most interesting round robin matches of the season Alfred G. Kay, well known resort resident and tennis amateur and Hans Nusslein, world's champion professional tennis star, teamed together to come out winners of the first of a series of weekly doubles round-robins held on the Poinciana courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club, tallying 35 games won and 15 lost, before a large gallery.

Karel Kozeluh, also an internationally known net star and one of the best players in the world today, teamed with Roddy de Heeren, son of Mrs. Ector Munn and well known college athlete, tied for second honors with a team composed of Ralph Minnich and Norcross Tilney, both members of the Princeton tennis team, and ranking players at the college, each team winning 34 games and losing 16.

The team of Minnich and Tilney, played some fine tennis throughout the round-robin, being the only couple to defeat both the team of Kay and Nusslein and that of Kozeluh and de Heeren, 3-2 in each case. Tilney's service was excellent and Minnich's work at the net outstanding.

Hans Nusslein and Karel Kozeluh gave resort tennis fans a real treat in the manner in which they played their games, seeming to cover the court with incredible swiftness, and sensing the position of the return, a split second before it arrived, were there to receive it. Their service was the envy of all who watched them.

Three teams tied for first place, each with 26 games won and 24 lost. These included William G. Foulke and Peter Blanchard, Mortimer S. Cobb and John Cardegna, Charles Harris and Rudy Noble.

The winning team of Alfred G. Kay and Hans Nusslein defeated R. de Heeren and Karel Kozeluh 3-2; L. S. Strong and Allan Wylie, 4-1; lost to L. A. Waite and George Agutter 2-3; lost to Ralph Minnich and Norcross Tilney, 2-3; defeated William Barry Ryan and Dan Kenny, 4-1; John Barry Ryan and Arthur Rudolph, 5-0; Alfred G. Kay and Hans Nusslein, 3-2; Mortimer Cobb and John Cardegna, 4-1; Richard Harris and James Kenny, 5-0; William G. Foulke and Peter Blanchard, 3-2.

Summary of games won and lost by teams: Alfred G. Kay and Hans Nusslein, 35 won and 15 lost; R. de Heeren and Karel Kozeluh, 34 won and 16 lost; Ralph Minnich and Norcross Tilney, 34 games won and 16 lost; William G. Foulke and Peter Blanchard, Mortimer Cobb and John Cardenga, and Charles Harris and Rudy Noble, each 26 games won and 24 lost; L. S. Strong and Allan Wylie, 25 won, 25 lost; Richard Harris and James Kenny, 24 games won and 26 lost; Luther A. Wait and George Agutter, 18 games won, 32 lost; John Barry Ryan and Arthur Rudolph, 16 games won and 34 lost; William Ryan and Dan Kenny, 13 games won and 37 lost.

THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL

IN ITS smartest gowns and jewels, in the famous Orange Gardens of the Everglades Club, Palm Beach society will dine and dance Tuesday evening, January 30, at the President's Birthday Ball—a nationwide tribute of respect to the President of the United States and a monster benefit to endow Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, a project founded by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and very dear to his heart.

Once in a lifetime comes an idea so great, so noble and so appealing that mankind's response to it is immediate and universal. Such a project is the idea back of this largest birthday party in the world and all over the country in thousands of towns and cities and even little hamlets, people will dance and make merry to swell the fund that will be given to the President to endow Warm Springs.

The idea originated with Mr. Keith Morgan, a personal friend of the President and a trustee of the Foundation. It was taken up by Col. Henry L. Doherty, who organized and headed a national committee. In each town leading newspapers were queried and asked to select a representative man for chairman of the event. The Palm Beach Daily News invited Mr. Hugh Dillman to take charge of the President's Birthday Ball at Palm Beach and his response was so whole-hearted and his enthusiasm so great that he has interested the entire social colony in the affair, which promises to be the most brilliant social event in years.

The Board of Governors of the Everglades Club has donated the club for the event and on the night of the President's Birthday the beautiful Orange Gardens, famed all over the world for their loveliness, will take on a new beauty. The club will be decorated in a most unusual and original manner and Ernie Holst and his orchestra will play for dancing until the stars begin to pale. During the evening interesting entertainment features will be staged by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, chairman of the entertainment committee. A feature of the evening will be an address by President Roosevelt, sent over a nation-wide radio network.

Leading members of the winter social colony are patrons and patronesses of the President's Birthday Ball, the list of sponsors being the most distinctive the resort has ever known. Many invitations have been sent out and a capacity attendance is expected.

The reception committee for the President's Birthday Ball includes Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. E. H. G. Slater, Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen, Mrs. W. Seward Webb, Hon. Mrs. Frederick E. Guest, Mrs. Charlton Yarnall, Mrs. John S. Phipps, Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mrs. John Francis Harris, Mrs. Edward Shearson, Mrs. Henry L. Doherty and Mrs. J. Leonard Replogle.

Members of the table committee are Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mrs. Frederick Johnson, Mrs. Clifford Vail Brokaw, Mrs. Thomas L. Chadbourne and Mrs. Willey Lyon Kingsley.

The ticket committee includes Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers, Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mrs. Adam G. Thomson, Mrs. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mrs. Earle Perry Charlton, Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard and Messrs. Maurice Fatio, Alfred G. Kay, Charlton Yarnall, Hugh Dillman and Edward McIlvain, Jr.

The entertainment committee is headed by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, who is a guest of Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson at their villa, and her associates include Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, Miss Norma Talmadge, Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Mrs. Frederick R. Johnson, Miss Grace George, Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury, Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mrs. Lucius P. Ordway and the Messrs. Charles A. Munn, George Jessel, Arthur Hammerstein and William A. Brady.

"Never since the war have I seen such splendid co-operation," said Mr. Dillman. "Everyone is so interested and is working so hard to make the ball a success and to raise a large sum of money to help endow Georgia Warm Springs Foundation. Every penny beyond actual expenses will go to swell the fund."

Patrons and patronesses of the Palm Beach President's Birthday Ball include Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Henry Rea, Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Colonel and Mrs. Henry L. Doherty, Mr. Joseph E. Widener, Mrs. William Seward Webb, Colonel Edward R. Bradley, Captain The Rt. Hon. Frederick E. and the Hon. Mrs. Guest, Mr. and Mrs.

MRS. GEORGE ALEXANDER MCKINLOCK of Chicago and Casa Alejandro, social and civic leader, will serve on the reception committee for the Georgia Warm Springs benefit on the President's birthday, January 30.

McIlvain, Jr., Mr. John Hays Hammond, Jr., Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mr. Milton W. Holden, Mr. Henry MacDonald, Mr. Maitland Belknap, Mr. Alexander Phillips, Mr. A. Atwater Kent, Jr.

Mr. James A. Moffett, vice president of the Standard Oil Company of California, and a trustee of Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, interviewed on his yacht, Bidou, in Lake Worth, gave his hearty endorsement to the benefit ball.

"I'm strong for it—it's a great work," he said. "The Foundation needs money badly. It needs new buildings. It needs new equipment, more workers, more money."

Among social leaders of the resort who are working to make a huge success of the President's Birthday Ball is Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, of Chicago and Casa Alejandro. President of the Garden Club of Palm Beach, a member of the Town Planning Board and a member of the reception committee for the benefit ball, she is keenly in sympathy with the work at Georgia Warm Springs, having visited there two years ago.

"I became interested in the work," she said, interviewed in her lovely garden, "though some men who had been helped by treatment at the Springs and who lectured in Bar Harbor, where I was passing the summer. They said they had found hope which they had lost and that their courage had been restored. I was so impressed that on my next motor trip south I stopped at the Springs.

"It is a marvelous center but most inadequately equipped. They need many things, among them a new hotel for visitors and friends of the patients. The President's Birthday Ball, it is hoped, will bring in a sufficient sum to endow the Foundation started by President Roosevelt, and enable it to continue and to broaden its work. We are all working enthusiastically to that end."

MRS. WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST of New York, now a guest of Captain and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson at their villa, is chairman of the entertainment committee for the President's Birthday Ball at the Everglades Club.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

ONE OF THE VAGARIES of fashion is the back-to-front effect now in vogue. We see it in dresses, shoulder capes and even in jackets on some of the smartest gowns. It is a perverse little twist of the mode, and like every other fashion must have had some definite inspiration. Perhaps some arbiter of style got her jacket on back-to-front and was too indolent or too wise to change. Another style that is with us this season is the definite train, long enough to be carried over the arm or otherwise caught up while dancing. So many trains and so few women who know how to manage them! At one of the clubs recently a guest at a large dinner party danced with her train bunched up about her knees in back in a shockingly ungraceful fashion. The train should be carried simply off the floor so that it does not drag, not furled around one like a flag round a pole.

* * * *

The lingerie mode for afternoon dresses is beautifully shown in a white frock worn by Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds. Silk waffle cloth made with a high neck buttoned on one side with three crystal-and-ivory buttons to match the buckle on the belt. Short sleeves banded with lace border and ruffle—it is a type of simple frock opposed to the familiar spectator sports models, very feminine and lovely.

* * * *

Mrs. Arthur H. Waterman, of Rye, N. Y., a guest at The Breakers, wore a lovely dinner gown the other evening. Fashioned of vivid geometric printed design, an interesting treatment of shirred deep blue velvet formed the short sleeves outlined the decolletage V at the back and fell to the floor in a short train. Velvet sandals of matching hue were worn with this.

* * * *

Another exquisite gown was worn by Mrs. Tarsh of London, a guest at The Breakers. Of black chiffon velvet, distinctive features of her gown were the wide panels covering her shoulders and a cluster of pansy blue velvet flowers at the low front decolletage.

* * * *

Miss Helen Morgan of Boston, was noted dancing at the Colony Club recently costumed in a lovely Nile green frock, designed on princess lines with elbow length very full sleeves of white starched mousseline with rows of tiny pleated ruffles.

* * * *

Mrs. Charles I. Corby of Washington and The Breakers wears a lovely azure blue pebble satin dinner gown with a voluminous chiffon cape. Bandings of satin applique bordered the cape and an exquisite amber clip formed a color contrast.

* * * *

Miss Peggy Kerney of Trenton, an attractive member of the younger set at The Breakers the other evening wore a lovely frock of bright yellow rough silk crepe. A cape of gold sequins and gold slippers were details of her costume.

* * * *

Mrs. Joseph E. Davies of Washington appeared at dinner the other evening in a stunning frock of black rough crepe with a deep V-yoke of black silk dotted net. The tight fitting long sleeves of net opened at the shoulder and were edged with a stiffened velvet.

* * * *

Mrs. Cornelia B. Garner of Chicago wore a striking frock at The Patio recently. Fashioned with a black chiffon and lace paneled skirt, the bodice was of white satin with a wide ruffled edging of the chiffon and lace around the dropped shoulder line. A tiny black and white turban was very smart.

* * * *

Miss Virginia Downs, a guest of her uncle, Mr. George F. Downs, at The Breakers, looked very lovely in a sheath-like dinner gown of white satin with a pastel brocaded embroidery motif.

* * * *

At the boxing bouts Mrs. Charles Minot Amory wore a spectator sports dress of white crepe fashioned with full sleeves, tucked at the top and full at the elbows. A jaunty red-white-and-black plaid scarf outlined the neck and was caught on each side of the front yoke with red and black bone clips.

* * * *

Miss Lucille M. Parsons, with the Amory party, wore a sleeveless ciel blue crepe frock with shoulder capelets turned back and caught with a row of four silver and rhinestone buttons on each arm. A white moire jacket was worn.

* * * *

Miss Virginia Hall and her guest, Miss Louise Tucker, had ringside seats at the arena. Miss Hall wore one of the new collarless coats of white rough wool, buttoned high at the neck and with the sleeves caught at the wrists in inverted plaits. Miss Tucker also wore a white coat, a polo model, over a Como blue crepe dress whose short sleeves were bordered with a wide tucked band of the crepe, and a white felt hat banded in navy blue.

* * * *

Mrs. John C. King, who seldom misses the boxing bouts, wore a tailored suit of navy blue crepe with a high-necked white blouse and a smart off-the-forehead hat of white crepe with a navy blue feather perched diagonally at the front.

* * * *

Mrs. Kenneth G. Smith attended the bouts wearing a white wool coat and one of the smart French sailors with a black grosgrain band.

* * * *

Mrs. Stephen Sanford and Mrs. Robert Hassler came to the bouts with their husbands, following dinner at the Everglades Club. Mrs. Sanford's dark beauty was enhanced by a striking evening gown of white satin with rhinestone clips and worn under a long evening wrap of mink. Mrs. Hassler's full length coat of Russian ermine was worn over a gown cut high at the throat and glittering with deep green sequins.

* * * *

Madame Franz von Matsch, of Vienna, wore a severely cut gown of black glazed satin to the opening dinner-dance at the Everglades Club, with a scarf of the material tied in a bow and long ends just below the shoulder line in back.

There's nothing wrong with this picture! The halter neck bib of striped red and white linen, the cute jersey shorts, the wide straw hat with Mexican cord band, the Terry swagger coat with beach bag to match . . . all are the last word in first fashions for the beach.—From Franklin Simon & Co.

AMONG THE PALMS

THE BREAKERS CONCERTS given each Sunday evening at nine o'clock in the central loggia, by Dudley Doe and his orchestra, feature music that is loved and appreciated by young and old, and combine works of both classical and popular composers.

Members of the hotel colony are joined by their friends from the cottage colony for these popular weekly concerts which are one of the most enjoyable features of entertainment offered by the hotel. Following an hour's concert, the stirring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" closes the concert, with all the audience standing according to time-honored custom.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Candler of Detroit are among the interesting season guests at The Breakers. Their little granddaughter, Patricia, is their guest for several weeks. Noted for their interest in and patronage of art, Mr. and Mrs. Candler have donated the Candler Memorial Prize for the best picture painted by an artist under 35 shown at the forth-coming second National Exhibition at the Palm Beach Art Center. Mr. Candler recently received splendid criticisms and reviews on the publication of his first book, "A Century and One," a biography of his father, Mr. William Robert Candler, which is now being widely read by his many friends in the resort.

* * * *

Mr. Robert S. Rodie of Kingston, New York, a season guest at the Breakers, was recently joined by his sister, Mrs. Frank R. Powley of Kingston, and Miss Harriet Olds of Murray Hill, N. J. Mr. Rodie is also an annual guest at the Mt. Kineo on Moosehead Lake, Maine.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes of Amsterdam, New York, have again returned to The Breakers to spend the winter months, according to their custom of the past few years. They were accompanied south by her mother, Mrs. Mary Rielly, of New York. They made the trip by motor and stopped at St. Augustine for a visit.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kane and Mr. C. H. Scott of Scarborough, New York, are registered at The Breakers for their annual visit. They are also members of the New York summer colony at The SamOset at Rockland Breakwater, Me.

* * * *

Wintering at the Brazilian Court are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Dow and their daughters, the Misses Eleanor and Lorraine Dow, of Orange, N. J., who have a wide circle of friends in the winter colony. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Gensler of New York, social registerites spending the season at this hotel, gave a dinner recently for Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kent, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Scott.

* * * *

Judge James Kerney of Trenton, New Jersey, with Mrs. Kerney and their daughter, Miss Peggy Kerney, have arrived at The Breakers to enjoy the beauties of the resort for another season. Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Williams, also of Trenton, accompanied them south for a two weeks visit. Judge Kerney is an important figure in eastern newspaper circles, as he is publisher and editor of the Trenton Evening Times, State Gazette and Times Advisor. During his stay in Palm Beach two years ago, Judge Kerney was appointed to the Haiti Commission by former President Hoover. Miss Kerney is a popular member of the younger set at The Breakers.

* * * *

Another well known publisher who is spending the winter months at The Breakers, is Mr. William Seyfert of Reading, Pa., who, with Mrs. Seyfert, arrived in Palm Beach shortly after New Year's. He is president of the Reading Eagle.

* * * *

Mr. Henry T. Sloane of New York, who has been identified with the social life of Palm Beach for more than a quarter of a century, is at The Breakers for the winter season. Mr. Sloane passed several weeks during the summer in Paris, where his daughter, the Baroness Amaury de la Grange, resides. Another daughter, Mrs. George D. Widener, is a prominent member of the Palm Beach colony.

* * * *

Among the Long Island contingent at the Brazilian Court are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Lutkins, their daughter, Miss Louise Lutkins and their son, Mr. LaRue R. Lutkins. They were joined recently by Mr. and Mrs. Graham Youngs of New York.

* * * *

Mr. Gilbert Drake of Maplewood, N. J., and his mother, Mrs. N. C. Drake, are spending several weeks at the Hotel Seaglade. Accompanied by Mr. Frederick Bennett, Jr., Mr. Drake enjoyed a fishing cruise last week off of Key Largo.

ON SUNNY PALM BEACH SANDS

AUSING to contemplate the ever-increasing throngs on the Poinciana-Breakers wide, glistening beach one is delighted at the beauty and color of the pageant presented each sunny day. Since the inauguration of cabana row several seasons ago, the informality and popularity of the bathing hour has increased tremendously. These delightfully effective cabanas, each equipped with windbreaks, huge sunshades, canvas beach and lounging chairs, very convenient interiors and canopied verandas, have contributed greatly toward making the bathing hours the most enjoyable of the entire day. For no matter what other activities may come later in the day of smart Palm Beach visitors, there is but one way to spend the noon hours, swimming in the famous surf, which has an average temperature of 72 degrees and basking for hours on the sun-dusted sands.

Among The Breakers guests who have reserved season cabanas are Mrs. Charles L. Corby of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy of Forest Hills, L. I., Mr. George F. Downs of New York, Mr. Arthur G. Hoffman of Orange, N. J., and New York, Mrs. Louis F. Reed, Jr., New York, Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Ellison of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Moody of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pieper, Scarsdale, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Gale of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopkins of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prufrock of St. Louis, Mrs. Frederick F. Proctor of New York, Mr. A. M. Lowe of New York, Mrs. June E. Good of Denver and New York, Mrs. George Shevlin of New York, Mr. Hamilton Wills of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Candler of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Tunney of Port Washington, Judge and Mrs. James Kerney, Trenton, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wynn of Boston. Also General J. Ernest Smith of Wilmington and Mr. Willis Sharpe Kiimer of Binghampton, N. Y., who are season guests at Whitehall.

Cottage colonists engaging season cabanas include Mr. Henry Morgan Tilford of "Oceanic" cottage, Ocean Walk; Mrs. Thomas James Blair of Sunset Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Feltman of Clarke Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Valier of Sea Spray Avenue, Mrs. F. Gray Pendleton, of "Reverie" South Lake Trail; Mr. Joseph Bannon of "Tre Fontaine" Singer Place; Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy, North Ocean Boulevard; Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Tevander of Barton Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hall of El Bravo Way, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wesley Copp of South Ocean Boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kolb of Clarke Avenue, and Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis of "Bemisyde."

* * * *

Among The Breakers guests seen at the Casino to whom a visit to this famous gathering place is a part of their daily routine are Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Giannini, San Francisco; The Honorable and Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stahl, Stamford; Mrs. Otto Webber, and Mr. Otto Webber, Jr., of Darien, Conn.; Mr. Henry T. Sloane, New York; Mr. Alexander Phillips, Peapack, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tobey, New York; Mr. and Mrs. John Dordan, New York; Mrs. H. R. Colvin and Mrs. H. C. Ayer, of New Rochelle; Mr. William M. Wadsworth, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hinde, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. William Seyfert, Reading, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, Amsterdam; Major J. F. Hahn and Mr. Randolph Hahn, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, Minneapolis; Mr. George F. Downs and Miss Virginia Downs, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Lehman, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Morrow of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Robert S. Rodie of Kingston, N. Y.

The Sun and Surf Club, which is in its second year of operation, has carved for itself a definite niche in the daily life of the winter colony. Located on the beach at the head of Sunrise Avenue, it is one of the attractive spots in the resort; there is a continental atmosphere about the terrace with their canopied tables, clubhouse and many palm trees, it is distinctly of Palm Beach.

Exciting games of volleyball, hand ball, also swimming and diving meets are on the daily schedule of affairs at the clubhouse pool and many luncheon parties are given each day on the terrace of the club.

* * * *

Mid-season activity is in full swing at the Palm Beach Private Pools, rendezvous of many well known members of the resort colony who drop in daily for a plunge in the pool or to take part in individual and class instruction in swimming and diving under the direction of Dave Gardella.

ITALIAN VILLA OF MR.

Trenor and Fatio, Architects

The attractive all-weather loggia of the H. C. Phipps residence offers a delightful spot for lounging during the morning or early afternoon. The walls are faced with quarry-key stone and on the south side is a large mantle of the same material. The ceiling is of heavy timbered design which gives an effect of warmth to the whole room.

ONE OF THE INTERESTING ESTATES in Palm Beach is that of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Phipps, located on North County Road, extending from ocean to lake, with its palatial residence overlooking the broad Atlantic and Gulf Stream, reminiscent in spirit of the many fine Italian villas one sees approaching Florence. Recent additions have added to its charm, especially in the execution of the new entrance stairway leading to the terrace and the new loggia on the west side, which affords a view of both ocean and lake, and within, a new library is the most appropriate addition to the well-planned scheme of things.

The new stairway leads from the western lawn to the terrace and loggia, and is of native quarry key stone with stone balustrades, hand worked, of the same material. Symmetrical in form and circular in construction it encompasses the forefront of the terrace.

Entrance to the loggia is gained from the terrace, the former being constructed so as to make for comfort both in fair and inclement weather.

Giving an air of old world charm, the entrance stairway to the H. C. Phipps residence is beautifully proportioned and prepares the setting for the residence which is reminiscent of the Florentine villa. The native quarry key stone of which the complete stairway is created mellows rapidly and gives the appearance of graceful antiquity. Tropical planting combined with the colorful sky effects and the background of the palatial residence itself presents a true picture of everchanging beauty.

METROPOLITAN NEWS NOTES

FRIDAY NIGHT a sumptuous historical pageant of the Orient entitled "Marco Polo," and depicting the Venetian's voyage of discovery in the thirteenth century was presented at the Waldorf-Astoria. This marked the fifteenth Beaux-Arts Ball given by the Society of Beaux-Arts Architects, and the only one in which Oriental decorations and pageantry were selected for the dominant artistic note.

A large group of men and women prominent in society, the arts and the professions, co-operated with the executive committee for weeks to produce the pageant.

Red lacquer and gold dominated the decorative scheme of the main ballroom, where the pageant was staged at midnight. Two colossal red-and-gold dragons flanking the proscenium and breathing incense, their eyes blinking; hundreds of lanterns, banners and pendants; the elaborate Oriental stage sets, all combined with the several thousand guests dressed in the costumes of Venice, China, India and Persia, was a memorable spectacle.

Mr. Kenneth M. Murchison, who has been chairman of the executive committee for the last eleven Beaux-Arts Balls, again headed that committee.

About 500 persons were required for the cast. Some of the characters and those representing them were as follows:

Kublai Khan, Ruler of the World, portrayed by Mr. Arthur Ware; Empress Karachin, by the Manchu Princess Der Ling; ladies of Wa-Wa-Nu's court, Mrs. Peter Grimm, Mrs. Hays Browning, Mrs. Frederick R. Coudert, Jr., Mrs. Seymour Helm, Miss Priscilla Hirons, Miss Peggy Le Boutillier, Mrs. Mott B. Schmidt, Miss Mary Sarg, Mrs. Beatrice Bixby and Mrs. Charlotte Satterlee.

Also Empress Wha-Ta-Fu, Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt; ladies of Wha-Ta-Fu's court, Mrs. Archie Roosevelt, Miss Constance Ripley, Mrs. A. T. Head, Senorita Moananda, Mrs. Sheffield Cowles, Mrs. Duncan Ellsworth, Mrs. S. Symington and Mrs. Edgar Leonard. Empress Hou-La-Yi, Mrs. Tuckerman Draper; Princess Kuchunala, Miss Mary Taylor; Princess Pu-La-Chi, Mrs. Frederick Payne; Princess Tu-Yung-Tu, Miss Peggy Fish, and Princess Ju-Dai-Shan, Mrs. Owen F. Roberts.

Also gentlemen and ladies of Persian court: Mr. and Mrs. C. Waring Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. John Newsome, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. Trescott Buell, Miss Aurelie Murchison, Miss Dorothea Morgan, Mrs. Allen Jackson and Mrs. John Bullen; Princess Kamar, Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, Jr.; Princess Fanar, Mrs. Pierpont M. Hamilton; Princess Mohra, Mrs. F. Burrell Hoffman; Princess Butar, Mrs. Wallace Cohn.

The role of Marco Polo was played by Mr. Pedro De Cordoba.

A large ballet under the direction of Mme. Albertina Rasch performed. Miss Tilly Losch, as the Princess Kokachin, performed a solo dance, and there was a large ballet from the school of Miss Ruth St. Denis, under her personal direction.

All the music for continuous dancing in the main ballroom was provided by a large Michael Markels dance orchestra, alternating with Fennar's Oriental Serenaders. A Chinese band provided music for dancing in the Astor Gallery, known as "The Streets of Peking," and an orchestra played in the jade and basildon rooms, where supper was served. A bar and Chinese tea house was located in the east foyer, and here, as a side attraction, was found Tony Sarg's Chinese Venus, from the recent Century of Progress Exposition.

Among those who reserved boxes were Mrs. Lewis Nixon, Mrs. Watts Sherman, Mrs. Lewis Cass Ledyard, Mrs. John T. Pratt, Mrs. Whitney Warren, Mrs. John Mead Howells, Mrs. Harrison Williams, Mrs. Charles Cartwright, Mrs. Bryce Turner, Mrs. James B. Murphy, Mr. Melbert B. Carey Jr., Mrs. Frederick N. Wilson, Mrs. George T. Maxwell, Mr. E. H. Denby, Mr. John M. Schiff, Mrs. T. Suffern Tailor Jr., Mrs. William Bayard Cutting, Mrs. Theodore W. Case, and Mrs. Owen F. Roberts.

Mr. Whitney Warren was honorary chairman of the ball; Mr. Ernest F. Tyler was chairman of the committee on decorations, and Mrs. Tuckerman Draper of the women's committee.

At the opening dance of the Crystal Club, in the crystal room of the Ritz-Carlton, recently, a cosmopolitan assembly of 350 included many Philadelphia and Washington visitors. Although the club membership is limited to 300 men, Mrs. William T. Wetmore and Mrs. Lewis Preston are among its feminine sponsors.

Several dinners preceded the dance. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fell, Jr., entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Austen T. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher J. Dunphy, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver O'Donnell, Lady Daphne Finch-Hatton, Miss Eleanor Barry, Miss Dorothy Fell, and the Messrs. James Bishop, Herbert and Stuart Scheftel, Robert Sweeney, Randolph Burke and Edward Tatham.

Miss Marion E. de Rham had as guests Mr. and Mrs. William Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Percy, Captain Nugent Head, Mrs. Head, Mr. Frederick Whitlock and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott.

At the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wetmore were Mr. and Mrs. William T. Emmet, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay K. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mr. William Patton and Mr. Arthur Delano Weekes.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hamilton had among their guests Mr. and Mrs. Julien St. C. Chaqueneau.

The crowd taxed the capacity of the Crystal room, where Adolf Pancho's orchestra played for dancing and an entertainment program including several dance numbers by the de Marcos, of the Chapeau Rouge.

Those who entertained at supper included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, Mr. F. Shepard Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. L. Stuart Wing, Dr. and Mrs. Conrad Berens, Mr. and Mrs. William John Warburton, Mr. and Mrs. Young Kaufman, Mrs. Charles Baskerville, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Marston, Mr. and Mrs. George Trowbridge Elliman, Prince Serge Obelensky, and the Messrs. Paul Felix Warburg, Howard Hughes, C. Huntington Erhart, Henry Weston, William Adams, Sherman Fairchild, T. Suffern Tailor, Arthur J. Davis, Robert Livingston Stevens, M. Dorland Doyle and Edward Reeves.

"A CENTURY AND ONE"---A REVIEW

By LILLIAN HARLOW HOLLEY

THE BIOGRAPHY of a pioneer of the mid-west in the 40's cannot fail to be of interest, for these were formative years of the adolescence of the nation. When that life story is told by a devoted son, whose memories of a beloved father are fortified by the letters of a brisk family correspondence, it takes on color and pattern and becomes an absorbing history.

When in addition the story is told by a distinguished visitor at the resort, it becomes of interest to the community, and so this review of "A Century and One," the life story of William Robert Candler of Colchester, London, and Detroit, Mich., as written by his son, Henry E. Candler, a native of Detroit, and now a season guest at The Breakers.

Between the blue-and-white jacketed covers of "A Century and One," lies a fascinating story of courageous youth setting out to conquer the world and actually besting a strange sphere, leaving a name that has figured in the building of Detroit and the great mid-west and a heritage of honor and integrity and plenty to his children. The work of writing his father's life story took Mr. Candler four years. It has just been published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, and already Mr. Candler has received inquiries about the screen rights, for the incidents of the book are so real and individual and the point of approach so fresh and unhackneyed, that one can visualize in it an epic of the mid-west.

If Mr. Candler's forebears had not been gifted in the art of self-expression in affectionate family letters; if they had not had spacious attics in which to keep these prized missives that shuttled the Atlantic bearing news of the two adventuring Candler sons, William and James, to their father, William Candler, the coachmaker of Colchester, and their mother, the gentle Letitia, and their energetic worldly-wise Grandmother Thomas, we should have had no story of these transitional days. Only sixteen and fourteen, well-reared in the English tradition of thrift and sobriety, manly and self-confident at an age when present-day youth is still held unaccountable and far from man's estate, William and James left their parents and joined their uncles in the far-away American city of Detroit.

"Never forget you are Englishmen," said Father Candler, the grandfather of the author, "and conduct yourselves always with this in mind. The civilization of the entire world must emanate from the British Isles hereafter, as it has always done in the past. How fortunate are the foreign nations in receiving the fine young blood from our shores."

So the boys sailed away in the "Devonshire," queen of packet ships, leaving on February 13, 1849, from London Basin and arriving in New York in the short space of thirty-two days. Arrived in port they spent some time sight-seeing and met up with a Mr. Bell, who introduced them to a real Yankee meal of flapjacks, sausages, coffee and apple pie, of which William said, "American hospitality not only overpowered us. It weighed us down like so many stones."

They left New York for Albany on the Hudson river steamboat, "Oregon," and from thence took train to Buffalo, proceeding at the rate of about fifteen miles per hour, and traversing a distance of 326 miles in two days and one night. Thence to Detroit in the "propellor St. Joseph" and there to meet with aunts and uncles and to start to work. James got employment on the "Ohio," a craft plying between Buffalo and Toledo, but William, from the beginning, bent his energies toward becoming an established citizen. To Homer, his elder brother, and others of the family, William poured out all his discoveries and reactions to his new surroundings, and these letters are the base of much of the biography. From these letters one can form a picture of a serious-minded, intelligent and industrious young man, thrown to a large extent upon his own resources, making for himself, practically unaided, a place in the community life of the city.

Time went on, and William fell in love with and married Miss Eleanor Van Dusen. From England came his mother, Grandmother Thomas, two aunts and two younger brothers, Edwin and Claude. All five Candler brothers were now in the United States. Only Father Candler remained in England, too proud to admit he needed the opportunities of a younger land, so rooted in his beloved England that to leave it were a greater sorrow than to part with his family.

The three elder Candler brothers, Homer, William and James, inherited as their birthright, a love of ships and shipping. In the firm of Candler Brothers, William was as we say the contact man, and Homer the financial man of the organization; and to James, the man of action, the leader of men, was delegated the task of managing the personnel, a group of lusty, boisterous, two-fisted, profane lake sailormen. These three made a good combination. Bound by a strong sense of family unity, the welfare of one was the welfare of all. Beginning as a sideline to the Candler Brothers construction business, the fleet grew until eight ships were numbered in the line. The history of the romantic development of the Great Lakes as the world's hugest carrier of fresh-water commerce is the history of the opening of the northwest.

"By the time that the decade of the seventies had waned," says the author, "William, now the prosperous man of business, had adopted the thoughts and ideals of the new land. His memories of England became gradually vaguer, leaving in their place a sentimental affection for the mother country, such as we feel for vanished youth. . . . He was caught in a whirlpool of industrial growth, and was made to feel a part of the seething activity that was America."

An appraisal of William Candler's character by his son shows us a man who ever had his finger on the pulse of world progress, a tender-hearted nature that knew how and when to be stern, a lover of travel, endowed with a vast curiosity, and finally a man with that greatest of gifts, joy in life.

In the little parish church of St. Mary-at-the-Walls in Colchester, England, a beautiful memorial window casts its tinted lights on the heads of the kneeling worshipers. It was placed there in 1929 by Mr. Henry E. Candler in memory of his parents. In its design the window unites the legendary history of his father's birthplace with symbolism representing England and America. It was given not alone as a tribute to two people dearly loved but as a tribute to a race, a civilization. At its base is the inscription: "To the Glory of God and in loving memory of William Robert Candler, born in this parish, 1832, and of Eleanor Sophia, his wife, born in U. S. A. in 1834; also as a token of friendship between the peoples of the United States and Great Britain. This window was erected by their son, Henry E. Candler, of Detroit, Mich., U. S. A., 1929."

As colorful a tribute as the window, as carefully and pictorially constructed and as enduring, is the memorial given in "A Century and One."

UNDER THE STARS

THE RISING TIDE of social activities leaves its mark day by day at The Patio, County Road and Sunset Avenue, and the present week sees this famous restaurant pass into the beginning of the high season. During the seven days just passed almost all celebrities in the resort have either lunched, dined or danced there, many of them being daily visitors. At the tea hour the Trophy room is filled with a gay and brilliant throng, gathered for the pre-prandial aperatif, a dance or a chat with friends. It is here that sooner or later one may be sure of meeting everybody one knows.

The patronage of The Patio, "where the Palm Beach tradition is observed at its best," is not limited to colonists here, for the daily attendance of sojourners in Miami Beach and other resorts, who drive up for luncheon, tea or dinner,

Charles H. Randle for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Street, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, Mrs. William W. Forrester and Mr. James Ellison.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Baruch drove up from Miami Beach and entertained at dinner at The Patio for several members of the Palm Beach colony. Dr. Baruch is a brother of Mr. Bernard M. Baruch, international banker at one time mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Woodin as Secretary of the Treasury; and Mr. Sailing W. Baruch, well-known in the resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Hamlin gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fenner, Mr. and Mrs. William Dietsch, Mrs. Charles H. Randle, Mrs. William W. Forrester and Mrs. George William McMurray.

Dining en famille on a recent night were Mrs. John Charles Thomas and her father, Mr. George Angue Dobyne. Also noted were Mr. John S. Phipps, Mrs. Hubert Phipps, Mr. Townsend Martin, Mr. Kimbark Howell, Mr. John Follmer and others.

The most important function scheduled for the next few days on the always-busy social calendar of the Colony Club is the inauguration of the daily tea dances, to be held on Monday, January 29, at 5 o'clock. A diverting entertainment and dance program will feature these daily affairs, contributing artists including Arthur Brown and Buddy Wagner and His Internationales, featuring the Colony Club Trio.

Undoubtedly one of the main centres of attraction will be the Colony Club's new Cafe de la Paix, one of the intriguing spots in the resort. Immediately following its opening not many days ago it stepped into leading rank as the locale for the informal social function, and ever since, from twelve o'clock noon on, there may be here found members is always a substantial proportion of the whole. Notable among such parties was the one given recently by the Vicomtesse de Susse, who is wintering in Miami Beach.

Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen, of New York and Newport, has been a frequent visitor at The Patio, usually being accompanied by her son, Mr. James H. Van Alen, or her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William L. Van Alen.

Others who may be seen daily at one or more of the three functions at The Patio include Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kent, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Carey. The Junior Kents are occupying an apartment in Phipps Plaza, while the Senior Kents are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Phipps at Casa Bendita.

Mr. James A. Moffett, recently elected to the vice-presidency of Standard Oil of California, is another who has found the charms of The Patio so many that hardly a day passed prior to his departure when he was not seen among luncheon or dinner hosts. Others who may be included in the "regulars" column are Mrs. Joseph Moran, Mrs. N. B. Spingold, Count and Countess Martinez de las Rivas, Mr. Joseph D. Bannon, Dr. Henry L. Kelton and Mr. Martin Scott.

Larger functions held include the dinner given by Mrs.

of the Colony Club set, gathered for a chat or the pre-prandial aperitif.

The first days of the Colony Club's 1934 season have been marked by a series of fashionable function. On opening night Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Captain and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochfort and Mr. Douglas W. Paige.

With Mr. Michael Phipps recently were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Phipps, Mr. George J. Atwell Jr., Mrs. Gifford C. Ewing, Mrs. G. Bogart Blakely, Miss Aida Iglehart, Miss Diana Raby, Mr. Townsend Martin, Mr. Thomas Goodwin and Mr. Milton Holden.

Mrs. William W. Forrester gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Street, Mrs. R. G. Fitch, Mr. William Chandler and Mr. James Ellison.

Mr. Howard H. Sykes, president of the New York Curb Exchange, and Mrs. Sykes, had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. E. Burd Grubb, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mosbacher, Mr. Frank Hall and Mr. George Summers.

Included in the party of Mr. Joseph D. Bannon were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Parker Stewart, Mrs. Roy W. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Bannon Jr., Mrs. Charles I. Corby, Mrs. Joseph Moran, Dr. Henry L. Kelton and others.

Also among hosts were Mr. James A. Moffett, Miss Helen Morgan, Mr. Blake Garner, Mrs. Amy Johnson Molli-son, Prince George of Russia, Mr. and Mrs. Zophar Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oakes and their house guest, Mme. Franz von Matsch, Mrs. N. B. Spingold, Mr. Herbert Levitan, Mr. George T. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lee, Mr. Allen Tobey and many others.

Mr. George Vanderbilt, son of Mrs. Charles M. Amory, has been almost a nightly visitor at the Colony Club since opening day, entertaining at either the dinner or supper hours, or both. He gave an interesting small dinner recently at which Miss Lucille Parsons, daughter of Mr. J. Lester Parsons, was guest of honor. Previously Mr. Vanderbilt had been a guest aboard the Pleiades, Mr. Parsons' yacht, on the voyage from Miami to Palm Beach, following Mr. Vanderbilt's return from an airplane cruise in South America.

Mr. Horace Kelland, son of Clarence Budington Kelland, eminent author, has also been a frequent Colony Club host. A few nights ago he entertained at a dinner for Miss Dorothy Richards, who is in Palm Beach as the guest of her grandfather, Mr. Jules S. Bache.

With the return of the warm sunshine and soft breezes which is customary to Palm Beach far famed climate, but which for the past day or so have been somewhat tempered by a few chilly blasts from the ice-bound Northland, the outdoor patio restaurants are once more the mecca for those who like to dine and dance under blue skies. For beauty of appointment and perfection of service, added to its lovely tropical gardens, and the enchanting strains of Ross Allen's music, L'Aiglon ranks high in favor with the winter colonists.

Seen lunching at L'Aiglon recently was Miss Phyllis Frederick of Huntington, Long Island, who was hostess to Mrs. Gordon MacCreagh of Centreport, L. I.

At another table was Mrs. Charles D. Case, and her guests from Larchmont, New York.

MIAMI BEACH

RESORT MIAMI this week has been like a modernized version of the Old Woman who lived in a shoe with "so many interests she didn't know what to do." Bridge, golf, thoroughbred tabbies, tennis and festivities attendant upon each event have provided a resort merry-go-round that left the winter colony with a few unfilled moments. Play in the four-way championships of the Miami Biltmore Contract tournament has made bridge an even more intensive subject of conversation than usual. With 24 district champions from 12 metropolitan cities participating, the tournament ended last Wednesday night after three days of colorful plays for trophies presented by Colonel Henry L. Doherty as president of the Florida Year-Round Clubs. Four events were played, the Individual Championship, the Team-of-Four Championship, the Miami Open Pair Championship, and the Miami Biltmore Winter Pair Championship.

Held under the sponsorship of the Florida Year-Round Clubs, the first annual Miami Biltmore Cat Show produced many impressive specimens of thoroughbred tabbies. Among exhibitors were Mrs. Joseph Young, of La Grange, Pa., Mrs. Earl S. Posey, of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. A. J. McGee, of Atlantic City, Mrs. E. J. Smith, of Charlotte, N. C., and Mrs. A. B. Miller, of Dayton, O.

In the meantime, society leaders of metropolitan Miami are engaged in plans for this area's participation in the nation-wide series of 5,000 birthday balls in honor of President Roosevelt, January 30. Three events are to be held here on behalf of the endowment fund to develop methods of treatment for infantile paralysis at the Warm Springs Foundation. Heralded as the climax of a new peak in resort activity, the events will be held in the famous palm gardens of the Roney Plaza, Miami Beach, the smart Miami Biltmore Country Club, Coral Gables, and the popular Hotel Columbus, Miami.

Particular significance attaches to the event at the Miami Biltmore because of the fact that Colonel Doherty, who spends much of his winter here, is chairman of the national committee in charge of the presidential birthday affairs. Many of the nation's famous, whose names have glittered in the lights of Broadway, are lending their efforts to the success of the Miami Biltmore event and society leaders are joining them to make it a new criterion for resort functions.

First of the seasonal tea dances in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza this week was the signal for a gala gathering of smart resort society. Among those noted on the circular floor under the swaying palms were: Prince and Princess de Ploginac and her brother, Jacques Dupuy, of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gorman, of Edinburgh, Scotland, who have recently arrived to spend the season at the Roney; Miss Ruth Ryan, of Toronto, Canada, and Miss Helen Greene, Cleveland Junior Leaguer, both of whom are popular members of the younger contingent; Mrs. Lurlene Garrison Fay, the writer, who has taken a home at Miami Beach for the winter. Damon Runyon, the short story writer and columnist and his blonde and charming wife.

Left handed golfers had their innings on the links of the Miami Biltmore Country Club this week in the second annual Miami Biltmore Left-handed Golfers Championship. Among entries were: George Clark, of San Diego, Cal., G. M. Lawrence, of Chicago, John Clarke, of Toronto, Canada, J. E. Courtney and Dan Chappell, of Miami and C. B. Nicholson, of Pittsburgh.

Many of the week's important social festivities have centered around the group of distinguished guests Colonel and Mrs. Doherty have been entertaining in their Giralda Towers apartments at the Miami Biltmore. In the group have been: Mrs. William Adger Moffett, widow of the hero of the Akron disaster; United States Senator Royal S. Copeland; John N. Wheeler, president of the North American Newspaper Alliance, and Mrs. Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. William Alton Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Cole, of New York.

Many of those who have made aviation history were guests at the Miami Biltmore hotel during the All American Air Meet. Heading this group was Major General Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the United States Air forces. Others were: Colonel Clarence M. Young, former assistant secretary of commerce for aviation; Frank Hawks, the speed pilot; Jimmie Weddell, holder of the recently established New York to Florida air record; and Major E. E. Aldrin, the aviation fuel expert.

Finals on the second annual Miami Biltmore Tennis Championships were the occasion for a large dinner dance in honor of the seeded stars taking part in the tournament. Among them were: Bryant Grant, Jr., of Atlanta; Frank Shields, of New York; Cliff Sutter, of New Orleans; George Lott, of Chicago, and Dr. Gene McAuliffe, of New York.

MRS. HENRY L. DOHERTY
who is spending the season with Col. Doherty at their tower apartment in the Miami-Biltmore

The beach of the fashionable Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club, the golf courses of the Miami Biltmore Country Club, the wide lounges of the Key Largo Anglers' Club—all are crowded these January days with fashionable vacationers concentrating on forgetting dull care in a big way.

Interest in the winter colony is focused on the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund Ball, to be held at the Miami Biltmore February 22. This is the annual event sponsored by Mrs. Henry L. Doherty and her daughter, Helen Lee, now at the American embassy in Copenhagen with Ruth Bryan Owen.

Much of the holiday gaiety at the Biltmore centered around the popular Miss Doherty, who paid a flying visit to her parents there before returning to her duties in Denmark.

Mrs. Doherty's annual Christmas party for Miami children was one of the most colorful events of the holiday season, when hundreds of children gathered on the Biltmore lawns, to receive presents from a real, live Santa Claus and a huge lighted Christmas tree.

Prominent among the recent guests of Colonel and Mrs. Doherty in their tower suite at the Biltmore were Mrs. Dolly Gann, of Washington fame, and Mrs. John Allen Dougherty, also of Washington, who has been chairman of four Democratic inaugural balls.

Harry Sinclair and his daughter, Virginia, are among other prominent guests at the Biltmore, as is Mrs. Tuthill Warren, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., a season guest, who is taking a prominent part in resort activities.

Tennis, aviation, golf and bridge events engage the current attention of resort visitors, as the lavish program arranged by Colonel Doherty and the Florida Year-Round Clubs continues its rapid-fire pace.

The weekly aquatic sports carnivals at the Biltmore pool on Sunday afternoons are attracting some of the most distinguished audiences of the season, while the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club is populous with fashionable northerners concentrating on salt-water dips, the American crawl stroke, and successful sun-tans.

The annual Kids Sailing Regatta at the Roney Plaza February 3 will bring forth many future yachtsmen among the younger set.

Society at the Roney Plaza is assuming an international hue this season, with winter visitors arriving from most of the capitals of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stinnes, of Berlin, were among distinguished foreign guests at the Roney recently, arriving for a flying visit before taking a plane back to New York and sailing for Germany. They are members of the famous German industrial family, and were accompanied by their brother-in-law, Gero von Gaevernitz, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gorman, of Edinburgh, Scotland, are added to the international lineup, having arrived at the beach hotel for a stay of several weeks.

Recent visitors at the Roney Plaza were a group of noted British film stars, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hulbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Howes. Mrs. Jardine Whyte, of London, also paid a brief visit to the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Tillman, of Amsterdam, represented the Holland contingent, and Georges Levy, Paris banker, spent two weeks at the Roney Plaza and went sailfishing every day.

Mrs. E. B. Green and her daughter, Miss Helen Green, social registerites of Cleveland, are Roney resorters, as is Mrs. Caroline Bill, of New York.

YACHTING AND FISHING

YACHTING AND FISHING are assuming their proper places in the sports activity of the resort this season with many large craft being noted in local waters and any number of anglers reporting successful catches of "sails" and other game fish in the waters of the Gulf Stream. Many yachts of all types are already here and with a large number on their way down it is expected that the waters of Lake Worth will soon be dotted with pleasure craft.

Under the new C.W.A. project for the City of West Palm Beach extensive additions are being made to the city dock to adequately take care of incoming craft and City Dockmaster Richard H. Watts has been busily engaged providing berths for a number of craft that have arrived for the season.

Under the stimulus of Mr. John F. Harris, prominent yachtsman and member of the Town Planning Board, that body is working with the Palm Beach Town Council to seek government aid to dredge the local yacht anchorage to a depth sufficient to allow the largest yachts to enter Lake Worth and anchor in complete safety. It is suggested that a section of the lake south of the inlet be dredged to a mean depth of fifteen feet over an area 2,500 feet long and 400 feet wide. This would allow large craft to enter and anchor without grounding.

Calm waters of the past few days have brought a number of yachts to Palm Beach, either to spend the season in local waters or to cruise along the coast of Florida.

Yachts which are either here or will return shortly from cruising are the "Granada IV," sleek black yacht of the cruiser type, owned by Mr. Franklin L. Hutton, of New York, is berthed at the dock. Nearby is the "Freedom," owned by Mrs. James P. Donahue, and also the "Dawn," owned by her son, Woolworth Donahue.

Two yachts owned by Mr. Henry Oliver Rea, the "Edorea II" and the "Edorea III," are also quartered there. The "Marlin," formerly the property of Mr. Edsel Ford but now belonging to Mr. L. S. Rosensteil of New York, is at the Poinciana basin; the "Sans Souci," owned by Mr. Edward G. Lauder; the "Onwego," owned by Mr. George L. Bourne of New York; the "Nada II," owned by Mr. Stanford White of Greenwich, Conn.; the "Naroma," owned by Mrs. Joseph Moran, New York City; the "Blue Bill," owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Cary Spring; the "Blue Heron," owned by Mr. B. F. McGougan of Bay Shore, L. I.

Arriving recently was the "Lassen," owned by Mr. and Mrs. Chris T. Lassen, of Sedar Lake, Ind. Mr. Lassen is state representative of Lake county and has been here a number of times in past seasons.

Dr. H. A. Whitmarsh of Providence, R. I., has arrived here on board his palatial cruiser, the "Romance," with his guest, Mr. Edmund Wood of New Bedford, Mass.

Also here was the "Bidou," smart cruising yacht owned by Mr. James A. Moffett of New York, and his party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cutler and Mr. William Baxter. Mr. Moffett is associated with the Standard Oil Co., and was a member of President Roosevelt's N.R.A. commission on oil codes.

Other yachts arriving were the "Pilgrim II," owned by Mr. William Elkins, of Elkins, Pa.; the "Josephine," owned by Mr. Paul Smith of Washington, D. C., the "Sea-foam III," owned by Mr. C. Cramer, Lake Forest, Ill., the "Wayanda," owned by Mr. Schoonmaker, of Kingston, N. Y. the "Viator," owned by Dr. Maitland Alexander of Pittsburgh, the "Nedeva," owned by Mr. E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia and Palm Beach, and the "Kimshure," owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Howell.

Resort anglers have been experiencing excellent success during the past few days fishing for sailfish, amberjack, kings and other game fish in the Gulf Stream.

Miss Lucille Parsons, member of the resort's younger set, had a most thrilling time the other afternoon landing a large sailfish measuring seven feet five inches while out with Mr. George Vanderbilt on board the "Miss Sally," captained by Walt Githens of the Poinciana basin.

Mrs. William M. Weir and Mrs. Elizabeth Liddiard, in company with Miss Virginia Downs and Mr. George F. Downs, had a very pleasant day, with Mrs. Weir, landing a large sailfish. Miss Virginia Downs played a huge specimen of "sail" for more than fifteen minutes, after which the line frayed and the fish got away. They were out with Captain Rudy Steinhauser on the "Blackjack," from the Poinciana basin.

Mr. Robert Clark and Mr. William Rodgers, houseguests at the home of Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Clark, had a splendid day's fishing recently while out with Capt. Harry Hunt on the "Imp."

Mr. Rodgers landed his first sailfish measuring seven feet six inches and weighing sixty pounds after a lengthy struggle lasting more than forty minutes.

Mr. Clark, who is quite proficient as an angler, landed a fifty-pound amberjack as his trophy of the day's fishing. Both are visiting here.

Mr. A. G. Hardy, well known resident of the resort colony and member of the Sailfish Club, together with a party of friends had a most interesting day's fishing yesterday in the Gulf Stream, bringing back a number of trophies of the day's catch, consisting of five amberjack, a kingfish, houndfish and a dolphin.

With Mr. A. G. Hardy were Mr. Chester E. Claff, of Randolph, Mass.; Mrs. Ruth Swenson, of New York, and Capt. M. O. Ness, of Duluth, Minn.

Mr. Hardy landed two amberjack weighing, respectively, 74 and 69 pounds, and entered the heavier one in the annual winter contest of the Sailfish Club. Mr. Claff brought aboard two amberjack weighing 54 and 55 pounds, while Captain Ness had a sizeable one weighing 61 pounds. They were out with Capt. George Sheaf on the Tomahawk from the Sailfish Club.

The placid waters of Lake Worth are the scene of much activity of aerial as well as water craft.

Here is an essential for a Lovely Southern Holiday

Don't burn—it isn't pretty... and what's worse...it hurts!

What's more it isn't necessary! Elizabeth Arden's Sun-Pruf Cream really prevents burning. It was an instant success at its introduction last season. Good news travels fast! All the women in all the resorts knew about it and wanted it at once. And they were delighted with its effectiveness. It also became immediately popular with the men in the family, young and old (it's marvelous for bald heads!)

This season every woman will want to have Sun-Pruf Cream constantly with her. It is a vanishing type of preparation, completely undetectable, and one application is equal to a week of gradual exposure.

● If you are a blonde, with fair, sensitive skin... or if you do not wish to tan or burn...apply Ardena Sun-Pruf Cream generously.

● If you want a rich, even, healthful tan, apply it lightly.

● Ardena Sun-Pruf Cream comes in a convenient tube, $1.25.

It is wise, also, to have an occasional Face Treatment at the Elizabeth Arden Salon to preserve the soft, smooth texture of your skin. For an appointment please telephone Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 5-2830.

The Ask Mr. Foster Travel Service

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

A QUESTION ASKED IN TIME SAVES NINE—and many dollars, too! Here we are in THE BREAKERS—with outside entrance facing the Casino—ready to help you save time and money and make your vacation more carefree. The young women who conduct the Ask Mr. Foster offices have already been to those far places you wish to visit. They will answer all your questions from their own personal experience. The Caribbean is dotted with isles of enchantment—the Maya temples of Yucatan are 5 hours by air from Miami—beyond, the Inca citadels of South America—castles seen from the air! Take off from Miami in a Pan American “clipper ship.” Pick up a cruise ship in Havana. Let us tell you where and how and when—make your reservation—buy your ticket.

45 YEARS OF RELIABLE TRAVEL SERVICE
FREE TO THE PUBLIC.

Mr. FOSTER'S Remembrance Shop
112 No. Palm Beach Ave.

Our 1934 collection is a world cruise around the counters of two continents! Those gifts you want to take to the folks back home can be bought right here in Palm Beach. An envelope-bag made of fine Java prints for mother—a Crystal Sport Bracelet for the older sister—a funny Fernando made in Porto Rico from native nuts and seeds, for the Baby sister—a handsome leather bill-fold for the Brother—a Mexican handicraft novelty for Father's desk. The gifts we have selected have a double appeal—originality and moderate price. You are invited to visit our shop.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

AGAIN . . . There is a Better Automobile and AGAIN . . . BUICK is Building It!

One glance at the 1934 Buick . . . one ride in it . . . and you'll know that it confirms the thirty-year truth . . . When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.

This new Buick brings you the biggest improvement in riding smoothness and steadiness ever accomplished—resulting from Knee-Action wheels, balanced weight and springing, the ride stabilizer and air-cushion tires. It provides the unmatched safety of vacuum-power brakes. It brings you complete automatic starting. It also gives you exquisite new Bodies by Fisher with advanced windstream styling and improved Fisher No Draft Ventilation.

We cordially invite you to see the new Buick for 1934 at your Buick dealer's showroom—and to ride in it and drive it at your earliest convenience. Your own judgment will tell you that again there is a better automobile, and again Buick is building it.

SKYWAY NEWS

WITH PALM BEACH on the air map once more through the new Waco-Belvedere airport, many visitors are dropping out of the skies for a lengthy visit or a brief interval at the resort. The airport grows in popularity daily, with visiting flyers and resort residents who are air-minded. A large number of planes have alighted in the local airport during the past week, with word of suitable accommodations here being passed along to others by those who have taken advantage of them.

Miss Suzanne Humphreys, debutante pilot who created a sensation in the air races at Roosevelt Field last summer, and took part in the Miami air races, and who is well known in Palm Beach social circles has been a recent visitor at the port.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst, Jr., who uses the airport upon his frequent visits to the resort, left recently in his Sikorsky plane, with pilot William Cleveland at the controls, but is expected to return at intervals during the season.

Miss Helen McCloskey of Pittsburgh arrived recently in her Monocoupe which she piloted in the Miami races and plans to remain some time in the resort.

Mr. Felix Dupont, Jr., arrived recently in his Waco cabin plane to spend some time in Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brooks of New York landed the other day, each in a Monocoupe, creating quite a sensation at the airport. Mr. E. Thord Gray of New York was a visitor also in a Waco

The three largest commercial aircraft in the world—the famous 40 passenger Pan American Clipper ships, saluting the season over Biscayne Bay, Miami. The amazing size of these 17 ton craft is shown in comparison with the two ordinary planes in the aerial scene. BUILDERS of the Lincoln never compromise with quality. At all times, irrespective of price trends, cost of materials and manufacture, the Lincoln is built to the highest standards of mechanical excellence. . . . The Lincoln factory is a model of efficiency. Skilled craftsmen work unhurriedly. Rigid tests control each step of manufacture within precision limits almost unbelievably minute. . . . The Lincoln of today provides the unsurpassed power and smoothness of the 150-horsepower, V-12 cylinder Lincoln engine. It offers new features of safety, new ease of handling, greater economy of operation, and important refinements of body design and finish that bring to owners a new appreciation of motoring comforts. . . . The Lincoln is today available in two wheelbase lengths, in standard and custom body types, at prices that range from $3200 at Detroit.

AMONG THE PALMS

WITH every train bringing additions to the ranks of season guests, The Breakers has taken on a brisk and lively appearance. Golfers going in and out of the spacious lobby, bound for the Poinciana, Everglades or Country Club links; sun-seekers treading the pleasant green south corridor, headed for the casino and bathing beach; guests intent on shopping in the beautiful resort shops in the hotel, scanning the board in the brokerage office, these add to the busy and friendly atmosphere that attaches to the hotel.

* * * *

A distinguished guest at The Breakers is former Gov. Alvan T. Fuller of Massachusetts. He was accompanied south by several members of his family including his mother, Mrs. Flora Fuller; his sister, Mrs. Martha Fuller Halsey, and her attractive young daughter, Miss Hope Halsey.

* * * *

Mrs. Henry W. Somers, of the St. Regis, New York, and Saratoga Springs, and her daughter, Miss Eleanor Somers, are spending the winter months at The Breakers. They visited Palm Beach many years ago and are delighted to be back again.

* * * *

Mr. George Wright, veteran sportsman and one of the members of longest standing of the Old Guard Society of Palm Beach Golfers, is again a season guest at The Breakers. Mr. Wright is the original senior member of the Boston firm of Wright and Ditson, sporting goods, and throughout his lifetime he has taken an active interest in sports.

* * * *

Mrs. George C. Shevlin, of New York, and her daughter, Miss Marion Shevlin, have returned to The Breakers for their annual season. They are former members of the Royal Poinciana Group, as are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dordan, of New York, and Mr. Valentine Braun, of Jersey City, who are wintering at The Breakers.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tobey of New York, are among the interesting season guests at The Breakers. They are fond of the surf and are daily visitors at the Poinciana-Breakers beach. Mr. Tobey is senior member of Tobey and Kirk, of the New York Stock Exchange. They are members of the colony at Mountain Lakes, Fla., where they have a home, Bienvenido, and their summer estate, Lighthouse Farm, at Southold, L. I., is among the most picturesquely situated in the smart hunting community.

* * * *

The Brazilian Court is the winter home of many prominent visitors. Mrs. Thomas Richardson Brown and Mrs. Eldridge H. Campbell, Jr., of Baltimore, are there for the season, and will be joined later by Dr. Brown, the noted Johns Hopkins physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Huntting, of East Hampton, Long Island, are at the Brazilian Court for their second season. Mr. Charles F. Leland, of Boston, who was visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, at their villa here, has joined the season colony at this hotel. Also Mr. Vincent S. Mulford, of New York, and Montclair, N. J., who is well known in the winter colony. Other guests include Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Perkins, of Highland Park, Mich., annual visitors in Palm Beach; Colonel and Mrs. Latham R. Reed, of New York, and Southampton, Long Island, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thorne King, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., who came here from Miami.

* * * *

Monsignor McGolrick of Brooklyn still remains here as the guest of Mr. Thomas A. Clarke and is greatly enjoying the balmy climate.

* * * *

One of the outstanding affairs of the early season was the delightful luncheon given at The Breakers by Mrs. Robert Dun Douglass of Llewellyn Park, N. J., who, with Mr. Douglass, is spending the season in Palm Beach.

For many years a resident of the resort, Mrs. Douglass has been identified with the social activities of the cottage colony. Her home on the North Ocean Boulevard was a center for many cultural and social events. For the past few seasons Mr. and Mrs. Douglass have spent the winter season at The Breakers.

Mrs. Douglass received her guests in the grand loggia and luncheon was served in the north lounge. Low centerpieces of pink and rose-color gladiolus and asparagus fern made brilliant contrast with the long white table extending the entire length of the room, at which the guests were seated. The guests were Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mrs. John E. Dana, Mrs. John E. Dietz, Mrs. Bernard H. Kroger, Mrs. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas, Mrs. William Guy Noll, Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mrs. John R. Bryden, Mrs. G. Horton Glover, Mrs. J. Terry West, Mrs. Albert M. Banker, Mrs. H. Ashton Henry, Miss Nellie A. Cluett, Mrs. Edward R. Tolfree, Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, Mrs. George A. Waterman, Mrs. George C. White, Mrs. Henry Clinton Hood, Mrs. William R. Sweatt, Mrs. John du Fais, Mrs. George L. Mesker and Mrs. John Watson Doe.

* * * *

Mrs. M. McKay LeRoy, of Chicago, has arrived in Palm Beach for her annual visit. She makes her home at the Ambassador in the Windy City and is a member of the regular winter colony at The Breakers. Mrs. LeRoy visited this summer at Cannes, France, according to her usual custom. Her brother, Mr. Robert McKay, of Paris, France is also wintering in Palm Beach.

Gone, but not forgotten! The old "mule power" car which ran, or rather, ambled its sleepy way from the Royal Poinciana to The Breakers. Every old resident remembers this.

POLO AT GULFSTREAM

LARGE groups of resort folk are finding most interesting diversion in the brilliant polo matches being played Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream with top-notch mallet-wielders from all the polo centers of the country participating in games here. Evenly matched teams with handicaps large enough to enter the Fall tournament at Meadowbrook furnish a world of action and a display of superb horsemanship, riding mounts which are the best obtainable in the polo world.

Ability to ride well is one of the prime attributes of a good polo player and the wiry little steeds are so well trained that horse and man seem to be one. At the slightest command of the player which is done mostly by knee pressure, the pony will veer off from a shot to let the rider behind take it, or stop short, wheel and race off in the opposite direction when the ball is suddenly knocked that way. More than a hundred of these fine specimens of polo pony are quartered at Phipps Fields, representing the cream of the polo world.

Nosing out a victory in the last chukker, the Palm Beach Hurricanes defeated the Typhoons in a spirited polo match recently at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream.

For the Hurricanes, Robert Hassler, Stephen "Laddie" Sanford and George Atwell Jr., played an outstanding game. Stephen Sanford was hitting the ball with rare form, making four tallies and demonstrating his ability as one of the country's outstanding players. George Atwell, Jr. and Robert Hassler each made a goal and did some fine defensive work at goal.

Stewart and Terence Preece, both members of the Preece family team, played some brilliant polo for the Typhoons, aided materially by Hubert Phipps, noted resort player. Stewart Preece, riding hard tallied three goals, while Terence Preece added the other one to the score.

Making up the Hurricanes were Robert Hassler, Henry Nelson, Stephen Sanford and George Atwell, Jr. On the Typhoons were Hubert Phipps, Leo Scaddlock, Stewart Preece and Terence Preece.

Among the many resort members attending the game were, Mr. John S. Phipps, Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Countess Filippini, Mr. and Mrs. Max Phillips, Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis, Mrs. Robert Hassler, Mrs. George Atwell, Mrs. A. Minford Bond, Mr. Charles M. Hayes, Mrs. Stewart Preece, Mrs. Terence Preece and others.

In what was by far one of the best games of the season, at the Phipps Polo Fields, the Whites defeated the Reds recently by the close score of 6 to 4.

Featured by thrills from start to finish and superb horsemanship on the part of all players, resort fans witnessed one of the best games ever observed in the South.

Laddie Sanford, playing one of his best games this season, teamed with Michael Phipps, both international polo stars, were on the Whites and proved just a bit too good for the excellent defensive work of the team of Howell Howard and Terence Preece on the Reds.

Making up the Whites were Hubert Phipps, Laddie Sanford, Michael Phipps, and Godfrey S. Preece. On the Reds were Carlos Montalvo, Howell Howard, Terence Preece and George Atwell, Jr.

In a fast and furious match played recently at Phipps Fields the White team defeated the Reds by the close tally of 10 to 9.

Both teams were very evenly matched and the score was tied three times during the last period. Hubert Phipps scored two sensational goals for the Whites in the last few minutes of play. Robert Hassler played his finest game of the season with the Whites. For the Reds Terence Preece was outstanding with his long drives, while Stephen Sanford, a teammate, rode spectacularly.

On the Whites were Messrs. Robert Hassler, Hubert Phipps, Michael Phipps, and Mr. Scaddlock. On the Reds were Messrs. T. Walton, Terence Preece, Henry Nelson and Stephen Sanford.

Before the largest crowd of the season, the Palm Beach Reds defeated the Blues, 9 to 8 one afternoon recently at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream.

The game was replete with thrills from start to finish and as the score was tied the last four periods it was necessary to play another chukker to decide the winners.

Mike Phipps, former Yale player and one of the outstanding mallet wielders of the country, made the winning goal for the Reds, while Stephen "Laddie" Sanford and Robert Hassler played in fine form for the Blues.

Making up the Red team were Leo Scaddlock, Hubert Phipps, Mike Phipps and Godfrey S. Preece. On the Blues were Robert Hassler, H. Nelson, T. Walton and Stephen Sanford.

In a fast game of polo that was much closer than the score indicated, the Whites defeated the Reds 9 to 5 recently at Phipps Fields before a large gallery of Palm Beach residents who motored down to Gulfstream for the match.

Tom Balding, brother of the British Internationalist, Gerald Balding, was high man for the day in scores made and with "Laddie" Sanford played a fine game for the winning White team.

Mike Phipps, George Atwell and Godfrey S. Preece played exceptionally well for the Red team.

Making up the Whites were Hubert Phipps, Henry Nelson, Tom Balding and Stephen "Laddie" Sanford. On the Reds were Robert Hassler, Mike Phipps, Godfrey S. Preece and George Atwell.

DEBUTANTES IN WINTER COLONY

By ROSAMOND MORIN

ENJOYING the social affairs of the week are a coterie of metropolitan debutantes who arrived in Palm Beach recently and are important members of the young set in the resort. The Misses Frances Drexel Munn and Mary Munn, who arrived at Amado recently with their father, Mr. Charles A. Munn, attended the dinner at the Beach Club last week given by four English visitors, and have been noted at several of the smart supper clubs. They were among guests at the delightful and unique Silhouette Party given by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst at The Patio last week. They were formally presented to society in Philadelphia at a party given by their father. Their mother, Mrs. M. Paul Munn, came from her home in France for the affair and its attendant festivities. Their sister, Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, the former Miss Pauline Munn, is one of the most attractive of the young society matrons and is expected to join her father and sisters at Amado later in the season.

Another charming debutante is Miss Suzanne Humphreys, of Far Hills, N. J., who has been the guest of her grandfather, Dr. Frank Landon Humphreys at Notre Dame Sur La Mer, in Boynton. Miss Humphreys is the only New York debutante of the season who is an aviator.

Miss Virginia Tucker Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, of West Hills, Ardmore, Pa., arrived last week with her parents to pass the season at Ocean View cottage in Breakers Row. Miss Kent, a sister of Mrs. William L. Van Alen, attended Fermata school at Aiken. She made her debut on November 2nd at a tea given at her home and was formally presented to Philadelphia society at a large dinner dance given at the Bellevue Stratford hotel later that evening. Miss Sarah M. Gardner, of Princeton, N. J., also a debutante, is the guest of Miss Kent at Ocean View cottage.

Miss Dorothy J. Richards, who graduated from Fermata School in Aiken and attended school last winter in London, is the guest of her grandfather, Mr. Jules S. Bache, at La Colmena, on Barton Avenue. Since her arrival a fortnight ago, Miss Richards has entertained several of her friends at her grandfather's house. They are daily visitors at the Bath and Tennis Club and go frequently to the Seminole Club for golf. Among the guests at La Colmena are Miss Rosemary Cohen of London; Mme. Marceline de Coll, of Paris and Mr. George Lowther. Miss Mary L. Lansing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland C. Lansing, of New York, and Miss Adelaide M. Moffett, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Moffett, of New York, come often to La Colmena from Miami, where they are visiting. Miss Richards is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Richards, of 791 Park Avenue, New York. She was formally presented to society at a brilliant supper-dance given by Mr. Bache in the ballroom of the Park Lane hotel on Saturday evening, December 30. Sharing honors with her was her sister, Miss Muriel B. Richards, who made her debut last season. Mrs. Frederick L. Richards received the guests. Miss Dorothy Richards' gown was of pink crepe. She carried a bouquet of orchids. Miss Muriel Richards wore marine blue crepe and carried gardenias. Mrs. Richards and Miss Muriel Richards will join the house party at La Colmena on Friday.

Miss Audrey Phipps, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, is passing the season with her parents at Heamaw. She is an enthusiastic golfer and last year took part in the Women's Championship of Florida Golf Tournament. She excels also in tennis and spends much time on the private courts on their estate where brilliant tennis matches often attract a large gallery of friends. Her sister, Miss Barbara Phipps, and Miss Nora Grace are expected to arrive at Heamaw shortly.

Miss Anna Coxie Newbold is among newcomers to the resort where she has arrived to be the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall, at Nautilus cottage on the North Breakers walk. Miss Newbold, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Newbold, of Laverock Farm, Chestnut Hill, Pa., made her formal bow to society at a brilliant dinner-dance given by her parents in December. Miss Newbold was among those entertained at tea in the Orange Gardens of the Everglades Club soon after her arrival, when Mr. and Mrs. Yarnall were hosts.

ART CENTER OPENS SECOND NATIONAL SHOW

THE SECOND ANNUAL NATIONAL EXHIBITION at the Palm Beach Art Center, arranged by Mr. Nunzio Vayana, which opens today at the Art Center Building on Royal Palm Way, even exceeds the high mark set by the first exhibition held last year. The private view yesterday was attended by throngs of art lovers and connoisseurs in the winter colony who were loud in their praises of the exhibits, which were excellently hung and which showed to great advantage in the new quarters of the Art Center. The spacious room with its high ceilings and noble proportions, has been divided into sections by the use of movable screens, affording more hanging space and serving to coalesce the separate showings into a comprehensive representation of American art.

Under the direction of Mr. Nunzio Vayana, also founder and director of the Ogunquit (Maine) Art Center, the Palm Beach Art Center is filling a cultural need in the community. The exhibition is shown under distinguished patronage, its sponsors including Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Hon. Mrs. Frederick E. Guest, Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mrs. Wanamaker Munn, Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, Mrs. Peyton Van Rensselaer, Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mrs. John C. King, Mr. Frank Gair Macomber, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, Mrs. John Elliott, Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener, Mrs. Robert Neff Addams, Mrs. Frederick Foster Carey, Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis and Mrs. Ernesto G. Fabbri. Virtually all of the sponsors were present at the preview, many of them bringing guests. The show will be open to the public until March 24.

Among notable exhibitors are Howard Chandler Christy, Abbot Graves, A. N. A.; William Sergeant Kendall, N. A., and his wife, Beatrice Kendall; Leopold Seyffert, N. A.; Olive Bigelow, Hilda Belcher, N. A.; Alexander Bower, N. A.; Walter Griffin, N. A.; Charles C. Curran, N. A.; Evan Cummings, Grace Collier, Frederick Grant, Howard Hilder, Jeanne Gallup-Mottet, Agnes Harrison Lincoln, Harry Leith-Ross, A. N. A.; Henry Rankin Poore, Percival Rosseau, famous dog painter; exhibitors now in the resort include Jane Forbes, Kenneth Forbes, Mary MacKinnon, Col. Oleg Pantuckoff, C. Percival Dietsch, A. Aurili, Mabel Jane Hess, Robert Neff Addams, Henry E. Candler, Capt. Arthur H. Vaughn-Williams, Inez Austin Bemis, Dr. Daniel J. McCarthy, Ellen Hume, John Wentworth Dillon, May DaCamara, Elizabeth Lumley, Josephine Lindley, Daisy Erb, Townsend Martin, Chauncey C. Woodworth, Eve Lundstreat and others.

Additional interest attaches to the Second Annual National Exhibition at the Art Center because prize awards have been offered by leading members of the resort colony. The highest award of the exhibition is the Marjorie Leidy Memorial Prize, offered by Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, in memory of her daughter, Mrs. Carter Randolph Leidy, many of whose paintings were shown last year. This prize will be awarded for the best picture in the exhibition. The Elizabeth Kay prize, offered by Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, will go to the best floral picture; the Inez Austin Bemis prize is offered by Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis for the best picture shown by a Florida artist; the Candler Memorial prize, given by Mr. Henry E. Candler of Detroit, Mich., in memory of a beloved sister who was an artist, which will be awarded for the best picture by an artist under 35 years of age. Mr. Candler is spending the season at The Breakers and says that an artist under 35 is considered a mere baby in art. Dr. Daniel J. McCarthy has offered a prize to bear his name, for the best watercolor; a prize is offered by a group headed by Mr. Frank Gair Macomber, director of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, for the best exhibition in the etching class. Mr. Chauncey C. Woodworth has offered a prize for the best portrait or figure painting shown. The Art Center is awarding a popular prize to be assigned to the work receiving the greatest number of votes by visitors attending the exhibition throughout its showing.

The jury of awards includes Messrs. Frank Gair Macomber, Henry E. Candler, Robert Neff Addams, C. Percival Dietsch, Frank von Hausen and Nunzio Vayana. Mr. F. E. Geisler heads the hanging committee, assisted by Mrs. William H. DaCamara and Miss Barbara King. Miss Ellen Hume is secretary of the Palm Beach Art Center.

The showing of exhibitions of national scope is an achievement of great importance and through the efforts of Mr. Vayana, director of the Art Center and the interest of its many friends many of the outstanding works of American artists have been brought to the resort, and it is hoped that it will become possible to continue these exhibitions year by year. The development of art deserves to be advanced and encouraged as a criterion of the civilization and culture of a community, and the maintenance of art centers is a sure means of developing the taste and latent talent of its members.

PALM BEACH CLUB ACTIVITIES

AN ELABORATE PROGRAM of entertainment, opening with a dinner by Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, has been arranged for the 125 presidents and delegates of various Garden Clubs of America meeting here for their annual convention during the Palm Beach Flower Show. The special train carrying the visitors will arrive at the Poinciana station in Palm Beach early Friday afternoon, February 23, when the visitors will be met by the reception committee of the Palm Beach Garden Club. They will be driven to Whitehall, convention headquarters, by wheel chairs, going later to the Flower Show in the Royal Poinciana conservatory where they will be guests at tea of the Garden Club of Palm Beach. Mrs. Stotesbury will be hostess to the visitors at dinner that evening.

On Saturday morning, February 24, at 9 o'clock, the Garden Club of America's committee on horticulture meets at Whitehall and at 10 o'clock the president's council will gather in session.

Mrs. Henry R. Rea will give a luncheon at Lagomar on Saturday at 1 o'clock, honoring the visitors and the members of the Palm Beach Garden Club. Following an afternoon visit to the Flower Show, six outstanding gardens on estates in the northern sector of Palm Beach will be viewed. Saturday's festivities will conclude with a reception at the home of Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer at 8:15 o'clock and a dinner by the Garden Club of Palm Beach at the Everglades Club later.

The visiting presidents and delegates will meet at 9:30 o'clock on Sunday morning to visit several selected gardens in the southern sector of Palm Beach and at 12 o'clock they will gather at the Bath and Tennis Club before attending the luncheon at which Mrs. Alfred G. Kay will be hostess. After luncheon at the Kay home, a tour of the vicinity will include visits to the experimental station and several gardens on private estates and to the polo fields at Gulfstream. At 3:30 o'clock, Mrs. Charles Miles, of Tampa, noted authority on the flora of Florida, will address the assemblage at the home of Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers in Delray.

Mrs. John F. Harris, Mrs. William G. Warden and Mrs. Edward Shearson, members of the Palm Beach Garden Club's entertainment committee, will be hostesses at tea on Sunday at the Gulfstream Golf Club. On Sunday evening, a number of smaller dinners will be given, various members planning to entertain for groups of the visitors.

Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, president of the Garden Club of Palm Beach, will give a musicale for the entire group at 10 o'clock on Sunday evening at Casa

Alejandro, her home in Vita Serena.

Caressing breezes and a warm sun combine to make the bathing hour at the resort one of the delightful features of the day's calendar. A smart gathering of the cottage and hotel colony is noted daily at the Bath and Tennis Club where the advantages of surf bathing have been augmented this season by the facilities of a lovely pool built in the loggia and surrounded by small tables where members and their guests may enjoy luncheon.

Among those frequenting the club recently are Mr. and Mrs. Ludlow Stevens, Miss Antoinette Johnson, Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir Behr, Princess Paul Chavchavadze, Comte Phillippe de Forceville, Mrs. Clarence Wadsworth, Mrs. Seymour Wadsworth, Mr. Jules S. Bache, Mrs. Peyton J. Van Rensselaer, Mr. Pierre L. Barbey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Angue Dobyne, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio and Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Stanton Bader.

* * * *

The Everglades Club has been the setting for a number of smart luncheons recently, among them that at which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst entertained for the members of the entertainment committee of the President's Birthday Ball. Attending were Mrs. Charles Minot Amory, Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Miss Norma Talmadge, Mrs. Frederick R. Johnson, Miss Grace George, Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mr. Arthur Hammerstein, and Mr. William A. Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Blossom, of Cleveland, Mrs. Maitland Alexander, Mrs. Charlton Yarnall and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hassler are among those who entertained recently in the Orange Gardens of the club.

* * * *

The trend of entertaining is toward the more formal affairs this season and, especially for large dinner parties, the clubs in the resort are often the scene of these functions. One of the smartest affairs of the week was the dinner given at the Beach Club by a group of English visitors for their hosts and friends among the resort colony. Lord Adare and Capt. Cecil Boyd Rochfort, who are guests of Mr. Joseph E. Widener at Il Palmetto; Major Pryce Harrison, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer at "Sea Side," and Major Reginald Lindsay Benson, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Smith at Casa Invierno, gave the dinner. Guests were seated at six tables set with ten covers each, in the spacious dining room of the club. The Beach Club Trio played throughout the evening.

ANNUAL LAKE WORTH TOURNAMENT

OMMY GOODWIN, well known Monroe, N. Y., golf flash, conquered the jinx that has always dogged his footsteps in the Annual Lake Worth Tournaments, and won the event for the first time, defeated Manuel Ortuno, prominent West Palm Beach golfer 4 and 3. The thirty-six-hole match was one of the most interesting ever played on the course and was followed by one of the largest galleries in several years, with Ortuno giving Goodwin a hard fight all the way.

The morning round was much closer than the afternoon, with Goodwin finishing two up with a 34-36-69, while Ortuno scored a 35-36-71, only two strokes under the champion. Both drew 37's on the first nine of the afternoon round, although Goodwin continued two up on Ortuno.

Goodwin continued deadily on the greens, but he failed to shoot the record golf of his previous matches, pressure exerted by Ortuno giving Goodwin a par card on the morning round and two over in the first nine of the afternoon play.

Cards: For the morning round:

Goodwin—

Out 434 433 544—34 In 454 443 443—35—69

Ortuno—

Ortuno—

Out 534 454 534—37 In 444 454

Spectacular drives and putting featured the afternoon round, with both players getting out of some tough spots on approach on several holes. Ortuno made a beautiful thirty-foot put on the eighth for a birdie three, and Goodwin popped one into the cup from a distance of forty-feet on the thirteenth hole. The most spectacular shot of the day was on the tenth when Goodwin stymied his own ball on a long putt. In a neat chip shot of only two feet he hurled his ball over Ortuno's and it dribbled in to square the hole with fours.

In the second flight, Joseph H. Schenck III, of New York, won the event defeating M. A. Carroll of Oshkosh, Wis., 2 and 1.

Third flight winner was Jack Haid of Brookline, Mass., who defeated Roger Bacon, Palm Beach, 3 and 2.

W. B. Langford, Chicago, won the consolation flight defeating H. C. Davidson, West Palm Beach, 3 and 2.

Chalking up a 33-33-66 for the eighteen-hole round, one stroke over his tally last year, Tommy Goodwin, youthful Monroe, N. Y., golf star, won the medal round of the twenty-third annual Lake Worth Tourney for the second successive year, lopping three strokes off the club par of 69.

Arthur "Ducky" Yates, of Rochester, N. Y., three times winner of the event qualified with Tommy Goodwin and took second honors, two strokes behind his partner with a 34-34-68.

They led the field, with a margin of seven strokes being registered by Yates over the four nearest contestants on the list, who all qualified with 75's.

Goodwin made three birdies on the out round but dubbed on the seventh to tally a 5, giving him a 33 at the turn. On the in round his card checked par with the exception of the eighteenth, which he took with a birdie 3, making another 33 and marking up a 66 for the round, one stroke over his club record of last year, which he shares with Albert Hakes.

Yates made his 5 on the first hole, took birdie 3's on the sixth and ninth and tallied par for the rest to make a 34 on the out nine. Returning he took birdies on the twelfth and seventeenth, but grubbed out 5 on the unlucky thirteenth and fourteenth holes to scratch up another 34 on the in round totalling a 68.

Goodwin, who was medalist last year, lost in the quarter finals to Celeste Durand, Garden City, L. I., who won the event but failed to put in an appearance this year. Goodwin won the Men's Championship of Palm Beach last season, and just recently staged a spectacular win in the Miami Biltmore Tourney..

Qualifying scores of the three flights were as follows:

First Flight: Tommy Goodwin, Munroe, N. Y., 33-33—66; Arthur "Ducky" Yates, Rochester, N. Y., 34-34—68; R. M. Steffan, Buffalo, 37-38—75; Manuel Ortuna, West Palm Beach, 39-36—75; H. J. Lamm, Riverside, Conn., 36-39—75; Kenneth W. McNeil, Bridgeport, Conn., 38-37—75; Frank J. Kelly, Detroit, 38-38—76; Arthur Brown, Fall River, Mass., 38-39—77; Drew Johnston, Jr., Bellevue, Pa., 38-39—77; Leon Sikes, West Palm Beach, 39-38—77; W. B. Langford, Chicago, 39-39—78; Robert Crosbie, Newton Center, Mass, 39-39—78; M. D. Jones, Brooklyn, 41-38—79; H. G. Davidson, West Palm Beach, 44-35—79; E. C. Jackson, Rye, N. Y., 39-40—79; Allen V. Ellis, Brookline, Mass., 42-37—79.

Second Flight: M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, Wis., 41-38—79; Hugh L. Willoughby, Jr., Port Sewell, Fla., 42-38—80; J. B. O'Brien, Providence, R. I., 42-39—81; Wm. Dennison, Philadelphia, 41-41—82; Stuart G. Rosson, Baltimore, 42-40—82; E. G. Lauder, Jr., New York, 41-42—83; W. H. Bade, New York, 44-40—84; H. S. Moody, Jr., Brookline, Mass., 45-39—84; Dr. B. S. Clay, West Palm Beach, 41-43—84; Ralph Sweet, Binghampton, N. Y., 43-42—85; S. A. Moody, Brookline, Mass., 47-38—85; Joseph H. Schenck III, New York, 46-39—85; Dr. Edward Martin, Media, Pa., 43-42—85; Harry Horner, New York, 47-39—86; C. I. Williams, San Francisco, 42-44—86; Arthur Hand, New York, 44-43—87.

Third Flight: F. W. Gwynne, New York, 48-40—88; Roger Bacon, Palm Beach, 45-43—88; Arthur Hammerstein, New York, 49-41—90; C. P. Stewart, New York, 44-46—90; Dr. R. C. Dennison, Lake Worth, 44-47—91; Harry Holland, Dundee, N. Y., 47-44—91; Jack Haid, Brookline, Mass., 48-44—92; Elmer L. Jordan, Palm Beach, 46-46—92; Samuel Gates, Lake Placid, N. Y., 51-43—94; P. S. Canning, Apponang, R. I., N. Y., 53-43—96; David Legget, 51-44—95; C. B. O'Dell, Johnstown, Pelham Manor, N. Y., 51-48—99; M. F. O'Brien, Providence, R. I., 51-48—99; J. A. Bannon, New York, 50-52—102; George Fisher, Buck Hill Falls, Pa., 49-54—103; Phil Coffey, New York, 55-50—105.

Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., and Arthur "Ducky" Yates, Rochester, N. Y., favorites in the first flight of the Annual Lake Worth Tournament, came through to win by wide margins over their opponents in the first day of match play.

Goodwin, who was medalist in the event with a 66, defeated Drew Johnston, Bellevue, Pa., 6 and 5 and Yates took over Leon Sikes, West Palm Beach golfer, 3 and 2.

Goodwin scored par holes up to the seventh when he went one over with a 5 but recovered to tally two birdies on the eighth and ninth to mark up a 34 at the turn, six strokes ahead of Johnson. Playing in rare form he took the next four holes in par, the match ending on the thirteenth green.

Yates thrilled the gallery with two beautiful putts, sinking one a distance of forty-four and one-half yards for a birdie 3 on the thirteenth, and another of about twenty-five feet on the sixteenth to end the match with another birdie 3. Yates almost wrecked his chances on the eleventh hole when he hit a pipe buried in a sand trap while blasting out from a bad lie. Yates carded a 35 for the out nine, three strokes over Sikes.

The tightest match in the second flight was that of Joseph Schenck III of New York, who defeated William Dennison of Philadelphia, 1 up, nineteen holes.

Championship Flight: Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., defeated Drew Johnston, Jr., Bellevue, Pa., 6 and 5; H. J. Lamm, Riverside, Conn., defeated M. B. Jones, Brooklyn, 2 up; Frank J. Kelly, Detroit, defeated E. C. Jackson, Rye, N. Y., 2 and 1; R. M. Steffan, Buffalo, defeated W. B. Langford, Chicago, 2 and 1; Manuel Ortuno, West Palm Beach, defeated Robert Crosbie, Newton Center, Mass., 5 and 4; Arthur Brown, Fall River, Mass., defeated A. V. Ellis, Brookline, Mass., 3 and 2; Kenneth W. McNeil, Bridgeport, Conn., defeated H. G. Davidson, West Palm Beach, 1 up; Arthur "Ducky" Yates, Rochester, defeated Leon Sikes, West Palm Beach, 3 and 2.

Second Flight: M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, Wis., defeated Dr. B. S. Clay, West Palm Beach, 8 and 7; Stuart G. Rosson, Baltimore, defeated Dr. Edward Martin, Media, Pa., 4 and 3; W. H. Bade, New York, defeated C. I. Williams, San Francisco, 3 and 2; J. P. O'Brien, Providence, R. I., defeated S. A. Moody, Brookline, Mass., 2 up; J. A. Schenck III, New York, defeated Wm. Dennison, Philadelphia, 1 up, nineteen holes; H. S. Moody, Jr., Brookline, Mass., defeated Arthur Hand, New York, default; E. G. Lauder, Jr., New York, defeated Harry Horner, New York, 5 and 3; R. A. Sweet, Binghampton, N. Y., defeated Hugh L. Willoughby, Jr., Port Sewall, Fla., 1 up, nineteen holes.

Third Flight: Samuel Gates, Lake Placid, N. Y., defeated F. W. Gwynne, New York, default; Dr. R. C. Dennison, Lake Worth, defeated M. F. O'Brien, Providence, R. I., 3 and 2; Jack Haid, Brookline, Mass., defeated George Fisher, Buck Hill Falls, N. Y., 2 up; C. B. O'Dell, Johnstown, N. Y., defeated Arthur Hammerstein, New York, 2 and 1; C. P. Stewart, New York, defeated David Legget, Pelham Manor, N. Y., 4 and 3; E. J. Jordan, Palm Beach, defeated Phil Coffey, New York, by default; Harry Holland, Dundee, N. Y., defeated J. D. Bannon, New York, by default; Roger Bacon, Palm Beach, defeated P. S. Canning, Apponang, R. I., 5 and 4.

Arthur "Ducky" Yates, Rochester (N. Y.) golfer, was eliminated in the quarter finals in the Annual Lake Worth Tournament, when hard luck in the guise of an injured left wrist, suffered in the previous day's match play, caused him to play way off form and lose out at the hands of K. H. McNeil of Bridgeport, Conn., who defeated him by two strokes on the nineteenth hole, after he had staged a remarkable comeback on the in round.

Tommy Goodwin, Monroe (N. Y.) golf star and favorite in the event, won out easily over H. J. Lamm, Riverside, Conn., 5 and 4, making a 35 on the out round, five strokes under his opponent.

R. M. Steffan of Buffalo played a fine round, registering a 36 for the out nine and may offer Goodwin some stiff competition in the semifinal round today. Manuel Ortuno, well known West Palm Beach golfer, tallied a 36-34—70, to defeat Arthur Brown.

Yates was far off his usual form in the match as the result of the injury sustained to his left wrist the day before when he struck a pipe blasting out of a trap on the eleventh hole. He totalled a 40 for the out round, his opponent being three strokes under him, and was two down on the turn, ill-timed drives into traps causing him grief.

Championship Flight: Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., defeated H. J. Lamm, Riverside, Conn., 5 and 4; R. M. Steffan, Buffalo, defeated Frank J. Kelly, Detroit, 5 and 4; Manuel Ortuno, West Palm Beach, defeated Arthur Brown, Fall River, Mass., 4 and 3; K. H. McNeil, Bridgeport, Conn., defeated Arthur "Ducky" Yates, 1 up, nineteen holes.

Second Flight: M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, Wis., defeated Stuart G. Rosson, Baltimore, 4 and 3; W. H. Bade, New York, defeated J. P. O'Brien, Providence, R. I., 3 and 2; J. H. Schenck III, New York, defeated H. S. Moody, Jr., Brookline, Mass., 6 and 4; E. G. Lauder, Jr., New York, defeated R. A. Sweet, Binghampton, N. Y., 2 up.

Third Flight: Dr. R. C. Dennison, Lake Worth, defeated Samuel Gates, Lake Placid, N. Y., 2 and 1; Jake Haid, Brookline, Mass., defeated C. B. O'Dell, Johnstown, N. Y., 3 and 2; E. L. Jordan, Palm Beach, defeated C. P. Stewart, New York, 2 and 1; Roger Bacon, Palm Beach, defeated Harry Holland, Dundee, N. Y., 2 and 1.

Consolation Flight: Drew Johnston, Jr., Bellevue, Pa., defeated M. B. Jones, Brooklyn, by default; W. B. Langford, Chicago, defeated E. C. Jackson, Rye, N. Y., 6 and 5; A. V. Ellis, Brookline, Mass., defeated Robert Crosbie, Newton Center, Mass., 2 and 1; H. G. Davidson, West Palm Beach, defeated Leon Sikes, West Palm Beach, by default.

Tommy Goodwin burned up the course in the semifinal round to defeat R. M. Steffan, of Buffalo, 6 and 5, and then continued on to chalk up a 32-32-64, for the round, one stroke over the match play record set on the course by Arthur "Ducky" Yates several years ago.

In the other semifinal match, Manuel Ortuno, well known West Palm Beach golfer, defeated K. H. McNeal, Bridgeport, Conn., 4 and 3.

Goodwin made three birdies going out and three more on the in round, the rest of his card reading par all the way through.

Championship Flight: Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., defeated R. M. Steffan, Buffalo, 6 and 5; Manuel Ortuno, West Palm Beach, defeated K. H. McNeil, Bridgeport, Conn., 4 and 3.

Second Flight: M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, Wis., defeated W. H. Bade, New York, 5 and 4; Joseph H. Schenck III, New York, defeated E. G. Lauder, Jr., New York, 5 and 4.

Third Flight: Jack Haid, Brookline, Mass., defeated Dr. R. C. Dennison, Lake Worth, 1 up; Roger Bacon, Palm Beach defeated E. L. Jordan, Palm Beach, 2 and 1.

Consolation Flight: W. B. Langford, Chicago, defeated Drew Johnston, Jr., Bellevue, Pa., 2 and 1; H. G. Davidson, West Palm Beach, defeated A. V. Ellis, Brookline, 3 and 2.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

THE COOL, white houses in Breakers Row are always occupied by a smart set of winter residents who take an active part in social and club activities. So spacious are the cottages and so homelike, that they are often filled with guests who find life on the Ocean Walk ideal. Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, of New York and Woodland, Tuxedo Park, arrived on Saturday at Oceanic cottage which she has occupied for several seasons. Accompanying her to Palm Beach were her grandson, Mr. Hunt T. Wagstaff, and Mr. J. R. Taylor. Mrs. Tilford is a member of the Everglades, the Bath and Tennis and the Seminole clubs. A nephew of Mrs. Tilford, Mr. Hunt Tilford Dickinson, of Heathstone, Locust Valley, L. I., and Mrs. Dickinson, have leased Spray cottage near Mrs. Tilford, and will come the last of the month to occupy it. Other newcomers to the cottage colony are Mr. and Mrs. Morris McDonald, of Portland, Me., who have leased Reef cottage and are in residence there. Mr. McDonald is a former president of the Maine Central railroad and is now a member of the board of directors.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, of Peapack, Far Hills, N. J., with their daughter, Miss Mary R. Pierrepont, arrived early to occupy Sand Drift cottage, following a holiday visit with Mr. Joseph Speidel at Casa Joseita. Their sons, Mr. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, Jr., a student at Princeton, and Mr. John Pierrepont, a student at Lawrenceville, have returned to their schools after passing the holidays here. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer are again in residence at Sea Side cottage, where Major Pryce Harrison of England is a house guest. Also at Sea Side is Mrs. Pulitzer's daughter, Miss Grace Amory, one of the most promising of the younger feminine golfers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cary Spring, of Boston are again established in Wewoka cottage where early in January Mr. and Mrs. Rollins T. Lincoln visited them. They spend much time on their boat, "Bluebill," frequently enjoying luncheon on board or cruising out into the Gulf Stream for the fishing. At Wave Crest are Mr. and Mrs. Harold FitzGerald, of New York, and members of the Seminole and Gulfstream golf clubs. Mrs. Charles P. Pettus, of St. Louis, visited there recently. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barklie, of Inver House, Wayne, Pa., are occupying The Surf cottage again this season and expect guests there later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Mallory (the former Miss Mary Downs), of Bradford, Pa., have joined the ranks of the cottagers and have leased Sea Gull cottage where they arrived a fortnight ago. His mother, Mrs. L. E. Mallory, Jr., of Bradford, has come for a visit with them. Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall, of Crum Creek Farm, Devon, Pa., arrived recently at Nautilus cottage where their son, Mr. Alexander Cox Yarnall, entertained at a house party during the holidays. Mr. Yarnall is a member of the executive committee of the Everglades Club and he and Mrs. Yarnall entertained at a musical and dinner there last Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, of West Hills, Ardmore, Pa., will pass their usual season at Ocean View cottage where they arrived last week-end. The Kents, who have a summer place at Sonogee in Bar Harbor, expect to be joined later by other members of their family. Mr. Kent is a member of the board of governors of the Bath and Tennis Club and of the board of directors of the Everglades Club.

Palm Beach society has assumed a distinctly continental flavor with the arrival of several distinguished members of the Russian imperial family augmenting the group of prominent English visitors and the sprinkling of French nobility. Entertainment is becoming more brilliant than it has been for several years, forecasting a season of unparalleled gaiety.

Grand Duke Dmitri and his wife, Princess Anna Ilyinsky, are important additions to the resort colony where they arrived last week with their young son, Prince Paul, following a leisurely motor trip from New York. They will occupy Kawita on The Breakers Walk which they have leased for the season. Though newcomers to the cottage colony, they are well known to Palm Beach society, having visited here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams and of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kahn.

Grand Duke Dmitri is the son of the late Grand Duke Paul of Russia, who was killed by the bolsheviks in Petrograd in January, 1929. His wife, the former Miss Audrey Emery, of New York, took the name Ilyinski in November, 1926, by authorization of Grand Duke Cyril.

bers of the imperial family. A cousin of Grand Duke Dmitri, she is the former Princess Nina Georgievna, daughter of Grand Duke Georges-Michailovitch, brother of the ill-fated Czar of Russia. Her mother was Princess Marie Georgievna of Greece and her sister is Princess Xenia Georgievna, formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds.

Comte Phillippe de Forceville is also a guest at the Behr villa where Comtesse de Forceville is expected to arrive soon. The Comte and Comtesse visited in Palm Beach last winter as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury at El Mirasol.

A series of smart dinner parties have been given for the visitors including a dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Behr on Wednesday evening at their villa.

Participating also in the round of social affairs is another cousin of Grand Duke Dmitri and of Princess Paul Chavchavadze, Prince George of Russia. Prince George, who is passing the season in the Spanish Provincial Apartments, is the son of former Grand Duke Constantin-Nicolaievitch of Russia and Princess Alexandra of Saxe-Altenbourg.

Mr. Edward Lowber Welsh, of Philadelphia, and

Shadow Farm, Wakefield, R. I., gave a luncheon recently at his home on the lake trail, having Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. George C. White, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barklie, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer and Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen.

UNDER THE STARS

IGHTS COME AND NIGHTS GO, and this week finds the dancing clubs passing into the second third of what, so far, has proven an unusually brilliant season. The weather, with few exceptions, has been at its best for outdoor dining and dancing, so it is no wonder that the evening star sees ever increasing throngs wending their way to the various places of entertainment. And this week offers Nature's own great incentive to get out under the stars and dance to the entrancing strains of the country's cleverest orchestra—for Lady Moon will reign supreme for the whole week in her star-studded empire.

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, the guest of Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, entertained at one of the most unique affairs of the early season, when she was hostess Wednesday evening at a Silhouette party at The Patio on County Road. Aperitifs were served in the Trophy Room, following which the men were taken into a room adjoining and given masks. In their absence, the ladies were given cards bearing the name of their escorts and when the men entered the room, the ladies endeavored to identify their partners for the evening. Dinner was served at H-shaped tables arranged in the north terrace and Mort Dennis and his Versatile Society orchestra furnished music and entertainment. The guests were Grand Duke Dmitri, Princess Ilyinsky, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Austen Gray, Mr. and Mrs. John C. King, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Replogle, Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury, the Duchess of Sutherland, Lady Daphne Finch-Hatton, Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Mrs. John B. Gaston, Mrs. Allen Gouverneur Wellman, Miss Nancy Yuille, Miss Grace Amory, Miss Mary Munn, Miss Frances Drexel Munn, Lord Adare, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Capt. Cecil Boyd Rochfort, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Major Pryce Harrison, Mr. Herbert Sheftel, Maj. Jos. F. Cottrell, Mr. Charles M. Amory, Mr. Frank Carter, Mr. Charles Hanson Towne, Mr. Thomas W. Potter, Mr. Frank Rediker and Mr. N. Mazzuchi.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reginald Langhorne Brooks of New York, gave a dinner on Sunday night at The Patio for Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kent, Jr., of Jericho, L. I., and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Campbell of The Breakers.

Mr. J. Leonard Replogle gave a dinner on Tuesday night at The Patio for the Grand Duke Dmitri and his wife, Princess Ilynski, the former Miss Audrey Emery. The Grand Duke and the Princess are occupying for the season Kawita, on the North Ocean Boulevard.

Noted at a table on the dance floor at the luncheon hour were Mrs. Arthur Hudson Marks, Mrs. George M. Hearing, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atelli, Mr. John Barney and Mr. William Ruland.

Mrs. F. S. North gave a luncheon at The Patio last week in honor of the birthday of Mrs. John Cary Spring. Guests were seated at a long, flower-decorated table on the north terrace. Besides the guest of honor those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kinnaird Tod, the Rt. Rev. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. William Guy Noll, Mrs. George Van Dusen and Miss Miriam Maccaulay.

Mr. Jules S. Bache, of New York and La Colmena, Barton Avenue, gave a dinner on Sunday night at the Colony Club for the members of his house party. Guests were seated at a flower-decorated, circular table on the east terrace, and included Mme. Marcelene de Coll, of Paris, Miss Dorothy Richards, Mr. Bache's granddaughter; Miss Rosemary Cohen and Mr. George Lowther III.

Mr. Pierre L. Barbey, Jr., of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., who has recently joined his parents at their place on North Ocean Boulevard, entertained for Mr. Ludlow W. Stevens and his bride, the former Miss Eleanor Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould. The couple were married last week at St. Thomas' Church in New York, Mr. Barbey being one of the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch were among the many members of the winter colony at the Colony Club one night last week, when they entertained for his brother, Mr. Ross McCulloch.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer had as their guests recently at the Colony Club the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland, Captain and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mrs. Allen A. Ryan, Jr., Miss Frances Drexel Munn, Lord Adair, Major Pryce Harrison, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Michael Phipps, Mr. John P. Wemple, Mr. Milton Holden and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gould of New York and Casa Bella Porta, Via del Mar, entertained last week at the Colony Club for the members of their house party and others. Guests were seated at small tables on the terrace of the Cafe de la Paix. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs III of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Martinez de las Rivas, Mrs. Paul Abbott of Cloverfields, Huntington, L. I., and Robert E. Jennings of New York.

Joining Mrs. Hearst's party Saturday night at the Colony Club, which was seated at three circular tables on the dance floor, were the Duchess of Sutherland, Lord Adair, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Miss Nancy Yuille, Captain Cecil Boyd-Rochefort, Mr. and Mrs. Austen Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice and Major and Mrs. Rex Benson.

Miss Frances Drexel Munn, debutante daughter of Mr. Charles A. Munn, was noted at an east terrace table with Mr. Jeffrey Roche.

Dancing in the lovely patio L'Aiglon is increasingly popular each night, and with one of Palm Beach's famous combinations of bright moon, brilliant stars and soft breezes rustling in the tall cocoanut palms, L'Aiglon is the scene of many gay groups who dropped in to dance to Ross Allen's syncopated melodies.

* * * *

Among those who gave parties at the gala dinner-dance held Friday night at the Patio, County Road and Sunset Avenue, were Mrs. Arthur Hudson Marks, who entertained for ten; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Netcher, who had eighteen guests; Mrs. C. M. Leggett, with twelve guests; Mrs. E. M. Mandeville, with the same number; Mr. Herbert Salomon, with sixteen; Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Campbell, with six; Mrs. Stephen Hirsch, with six; Miss Kate McCarthy, with the same number; and Mr. A. Preston Lewis, with twelve. The event marked the inaugural of the 1934 social season at the Patio.

MIAMI BEACH

WHEN IT'S MOONLIGHT on the Florida Riviera, the resort colony of metropolitan Miami arranges its calendar to make the most of silver flooded riding trails and beaches. This week has been highlighted with a number of moonlight riding parties on the trails around the Miami Biltmore Country Club. Later the groups gathered at the club for a midnight supper. Members of the resort colony are looking forward with keen interest to an Old Time Fiddlers' Contest, which will be held in the Miami Biltmore pool today. The delta lands of the Mississippi, the pine woods of Georgia and Florida, the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia, and the hills of Tennessee will be represented in the group of exponents of an art that had its beginnings in the days when the United States was a colony.

Among picturesque personalities who will take part in the program are: Fiddlin' John Carson, of Georgia, whom Henry Ford hailed as the "greatest of them all"; his daughter, "Moonshine Kate," whose fiddle has brought her radio fame at the age of 22; Earl Johnson, known as "the fiddling fool of the Blue Ridge Mountains"; John Sparr, Florida state champion fiddler, and a number of others.

Miami's participation in the series of birthday balls to be given tonight in honor of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, promises to set the pace for many other Florida resorts. With the famous S. L. (Roxy) Rothafel in charge, the Coral Gaables event at the Miami Biltmore Country Club will be featured by an entertainment program in which many whose names have shown in Broadway bright lights will take part.

The Palm Gardens of the Roney Plaza will be illuminated with thousands of jewel-like lights to provide the atmosphere of fairyland for the Miami Beach function. A third brilliant event will be given at the Columbus hotel, as Miami's participation in the plan to honor the President and provide an endowment fund to develop methods of treatment for infantile paralysis at the Warm Springs Foundation.

Particular sentiment attaches to the trio of affairs to be given here because of the fact that Colonel Henry L. Doherty, who is chairman of the national committee in charge of the events, is spending the winter in his Giralda Towers apartments at the Miami Biltmore.

In the meantime, the resort colony is anticipating another brilliant charity event in February, the Helen Lee Doherty Milk Fund Ball on behalf of the philanthropy established last year by Miss Helen Lee Doherty, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Doherty, before her departure for Copenhagen, where she is secretary to Minister Ruth Bryan Owen. The ball will be given February 22, and will be featured by the award of a medal for the most meritorious charitable service performed in the Miami area in 1933.

Despite the distraction of a variety of other activities this week, the resort colony remained true to two of its favorite diversions, fishing and golf. Play in the Miami Biltmore Amateur Invitation Tournament was followed by large galleries, who watched a number of the country's best known amateur stars compete. Among them were: Curtis Bryan, of Jacksonville, winner of the Miami Biltmore Thanksgiving Day Tournament; Celeste Durand, the Brooklyn star; R. E. Barbour, of New York, holder of many amateur trophies, and H. F. Bowberr, the Chicago flash.

The Key Largo Anglers Club continues to be a favorite mecca for the resort's rod and reel enthusiasts. The picturesque retreat, with its log cabin cottages under spreading banyan trees, its rambling clubhouse of native stone, and its yacht dotted vistas of blue water has had the names of many famous personalities on its registers this season. Among guests during the week have been Dr. and Mrs. George D. Rosengarten, of Philadelphia; Hervey Allen, the author of "Anthony Adverse"; Miss June Knight, the motion picture star; Hugh Potter, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and many others.

Mrs. Reginald Brooks, well known member of the Palm Beach colony, is at the Miami Biltmore for an indefinite stay. Lady Julia Reckitt, of London, is another prominent guest who joined the Biltmore colony during the week. Former United States Senator and Mrs. William E. Chilton, of Charleston, W. Va., who have spent their winters at the Biltmore for a number of seasons, returned this week.

Among notable arrivals at the Roney Plaza hotel during the week was Michael L. Benedum, largest individual oil operator in America. Mrs. Eldon Stevenson, a former president of the Nashville Junior League, was another incoming guest. Other socially prominent guests arriving at the Roney Plaza this week included Mr. and Mrs. Alden R. Hatch, of Cedarhurst, L. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton C.

Fly to the famous

Maya Ruins

in 8 Hours

YOU ARE just 8 brief hours from a new world . . . from the thrilling land of the "First Americans"—The Maya ruins of Yucatan. Wierd, exotic monuments to an American culture that was old before Columbus was born.

EIGHT luxurious hours nestled in the comfortable club chairs aboard Pan American's giant flying boats.

SPEND a week-end in Mexico this season. Stop over in Havana, going or coming back—stay as long as you wish.

OR, if more distant lands hold a greater thrill, Pan American's airliners will take you to any of twenty-one enchanting countries in two days. To the farthest of the great capitals of South America in seven.

METROPOLITAN NEWS NOTES

THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL which will take place at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight will feature several delightful entertainments. A debutante committee headed by Miss Margaret Roosevelt, a junior committee with Miss Peggy Sykes as chairman and a "young married" group led by Mrs. William Walker Kennedy assures the success of the ball. The pageant, which includes two novelty numbers under the direction of Mr. Ned Wayburn and a "surprise number," will be the evening's entertainment feature. The principal scene will be the "President's Birthday Cake," in which debutantes of past seasons will represent the approximate number of candles, fifty-two, on a gigantic cake. This will be followed by the "Parade of the Service," a ballet. The debutante dancers will wear costumes representing the Army, Navy and Marines.

Principal parts in the pageant will be taken by the Misses Gloria Braggiotti, Ann Mitchell, Josephine MacSherry, Ruth Palmer, Gwendolyn Gwynne and Mrs. Edward Thorborn Griffith.

The "candles" will be represented by the Misses Betty Kip, Marian I. Dunstan, Marie Arnold, Mathilde Rodger, Jean Martin, Edna Finder, Henrietta Zimmerman, Fay Keith, Joan Power, Reva Tonnele, Edythe Pulley, Katherine Pell, Jean Flagler, Lenore Falcon, Katherine Bennett, Betty Fish, Hope Hildreth, Sally Tevis, Mary Belle Tevis, Flora Tobin, Bernice Davis, Louise Hunting, Dorothy McEwan and Peggy Pardee; Mrs. Clement Henry, Jr., and Mrs. Amalie Frank.

In "army and navy" costumes will be the Misses Frances Brown, Alice Bliss, Ethel Sayers, Jane Miller, Rosalie Rahte and Mary Bennett.

The "surprise number" will be another ballet. Among those taking part will be the Misses Victoria Thorne, Virginia Gordon, Helen Judge, Deborah Locke, Carol Barnes, Beatrice Elphinstone, Hope Iselin and Mary Jane Moore.

Additional patronesses include the Mmes. George W. Mixter, Edward Ridley Finch, J. Kennedy Tod, Winthrop Dwight, Mary Duke Biddle, John Kirkland Clark, Lewis M. Borden, Robert J. Caldwell, Walter Belknap James, Edward T. Griffith, Boothe Brokaw, Kenneth O'Brien, B. Aymar Johnson, James Lees Laidlaw, Robert L. Gerry, John Mead Howell and Laurens R. Bowden.

Mrs. Walter L. Worrall, of 132 East Seventy-second Street and Mount Kisco, N. Y., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Anne M. Worrall, to Mr. F. Peter Ryan, son of Mr. Allan A. Ryan of New York, and Mrs. S. Tack Ryan, of Montreal.

Miss Worrall attended Miss Porter's School at Farmington, Conn., and is a member of the Junior League.

Mr. Ryan is a grandson of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan and the first Mrs. Ryan. He was graduated from the Roxbury School and attended Yale University. Mrs. Miriam Ryan Hebert and Miss Sally Ryan are his sisters and Mr. Allan A. Ryan, Jr., who married Miss Janet Newgold, and Mr. Barry Ryan are his brothers. Mr. Clendenin J. Ryan and Mr. John Barry Ryan are his uncles. He inherits a proportionate part of the great fortune amassed by his grandfather in the tobacco industry, railroads, public utilities and other corporations. Thomas Fortune Ryan died November 24, 1928.

The sixth annual Russian Students Ball will take place February 9 at the Ritz-Carlton, where the main ballroom suite, oval restaurant and Palm Court have been reserved for the event. The entire motif of the ball will be reminiscent of old Russia. The Gypsy Choir ensemble heard last year will sing again during the midnight supper, and noted Russian artists will appear. The proceeds will go to the unemployed students of the Russian Alumni and Students Association.

Princess Dolly Obolensky, whose debut was an event of the last week, is chairman of the debutante committee. She has appointed as vice chairmen the Misses Betty Kip, Dorothy Shelby Siems, Evelyn Bruen, Margaret Yates and Cornelia Bailey, and others on the committee include the Misses Madeleine and Oramella Marvin-Smith, Grace Richardson, Katharine Clark, Angela Fowler, Elizabeth Glover, Jane Ryan, Jean Martin, Alice Dunning and Katherine Blake. Large junior and floor committees are being formed.

What could she have forgotten?

DEMEYER

Only ten minutes to catch the boat, ten minutes in which to get to the nearest shop to purchase that indispensable something she had forgotten. But she felt she could not go without it!

What can be that important to a Southern holiday? Elizabeth Arden's Sun-Pruf Cream! This lady was among the first to use Sun-Pruf Cream when Miss Arden introduced it last season. And it was an immediate success because it really did what Miss Arden said it would do. It really prevented sun worshippers from burning painfully without a vestige of tan to show for their torture.

Ardena Sun-Pruf Cream is a vanishing type of preparation, completely undetectable. One application is equal to a week of gradual exposure. For a tanned, healthy look apply it lightly. Or, if you wish to preserve the natural color of your skin, apply it generously and frequently.

Now you understand why this lady risked missing the boat in preference to going without Sun-Pruf Cream. In her excitement she forgot that you can buy it at all smart shops in every Southern resort . . . $1.25 the tube.

• To preserve the soft, smooth texture of your skin, come to Elizabeth Arden's Salon for a Face Treatment.

Essex House

160 Central Park South
NEW YORK

An admiring guest, a world traveler, lately returned from abroad, tells us "the Essex House is the Matterhorn of hotels. It captures the imagination with its loftiness and charm. A view from the windows overlooking Central Park reveals a panorama of beauty seldom found anywhere in Europe."

A step to transportation, New York's smartest shops and theatres.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

AGAIN . . . There is a Better Automobile and AGAIN . . . BUICK is Building It!

One glance at the 1934 Buick . . . one ride in it . . . and you'll know that it confirms the thirty-year truth . . . When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.

This new Buick brings you the biggest improvement in riding smoothness and steadiness ever accomplished—resulting from Knee-Action wheels, balanced weight and springing, the ride stabilizer and air-cushion tires. It provides the unmatched safety of vacuum-power brakes. It brings you complete automatic starting. It also gives you exquisite new Bodies by Fisher with advanced windstream styling and improved Fisher No Draft Ventilation.

We cordially invite you to see the new Buick for 1934 at your Buick dealer's showroom—and to ride in it and drive it at your earliest convenience. Your own judgment will tell you that again there is a better automobile, and again Buick is building it.
